C. C. SMITH, 48, OF MT. JOY TWP., NAMED CLERK BY COMMISSIONERS

Clarence C. Smith, 48-year-old Mt. Joy township farmer, member of the GOP executive committee of Adams county and twice his party's nominee for the office of county treasurer, was elected this morning by the Adams county commissioners as their new chief clerk.

He will take over as chief clerk January 1 when the resignation of C. Arthur Brame, former prothonotary, becomes effective. Mr. Brame handed in his resignation several weeks ago. He will become the new manager of the Gettysburg Ice and Storage company at the beginning of the year.

Pay Remains Same

Mr. Smith's pay was fixed at $1,900, the same figure that Mr. Brame has received during his three years as clerk under the present board.

Although his duties as chief clerk do not begin until January 1 he will enter the commissioner's office next Monday or Tuesday to become familiar with office routine.

The commissioners said the remainder of their office staff remains the same. Lawrence E. Myers, a Democrat, is the assistant clerk, while Ray Snyder, of Littlestown, has been employed for some time as a special clerk. Mr. Snyder is a Republican.

Nominated in '23 and '27

Mr. Smith, whose post office address is Littlestown R. 1, was nominated by the Republicans for the county treasurership in 1923 and 1927 but was defeated both times at the general election. He is a member of the executive committee for the G. O. P. in the county, named by County Chairman John H. Bashore, and also is a member of the Republican committee in Mt. Joy township. He is secretary of the board of road supervisors in his home township.

He was graduated from the former Gettysburg academy in 1911 and after attending Gettysburg college for a year was graduated from the Pennsylvania Business college at Lancaster. During the early days of the Adams Electric Cooperative, Inc., in Adams county, two years ago, he served as a coordinator and worked on rural electrification projects for seven months in this and neighboring counties.

2 Sons in Army

Mr. Smith has two sons in the Army. James A. Smith is an air cadet in training in Texas, while his other son, Pvt. Clarence C. Smith, Jr., is at Fort Sill, Oklahoma. The latter was a member of the editorial staff of a Harrisburg newspaper before entering the service several months ago.

He has two daughters, Miss Madelyn Smith, who is employed in the office of the Adams Electric Cooperative here, and Peggy Ann Smith, an eighth grade pupil in the public schools.

Mrs. Smith is the former Miss Anna Alice Hartman, of Cavetown, Maryland. They were married August 15, 1917.

Except for the selection of their clerk, the commissioners acted on only routine matters. This afternoon they sit as the county board of tax assessment appeals for the regular triennial assessment. Today is the first of series of appeal dates. Appeals from Freedom, Mt. Joy and Highland townships were to be heard this afternoon.

2 Countians Named To College Debating Team

Charles R. Williams and Samuel M. Raffensberger have won positions on the varsity debate team at Gettysburg college, according to an announcement by Robert L. Lang, team manager.

Williams, the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Ray Williams, of McKnightstown, is a member of the college band and Phi Sigma Kappa fraternity. He has been appointed accounting laboratory instructor at the college.

Raffensberger, son of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Raffensberger, of Ardenville, belongs to the Phi Gamma Delta fraternity.

HOSPITAL REPORT

Robert Sasser, a student at Gettysburg college, was treated at the Warner hospital Tuesday evening for a laceration to the second finger of his left hand.

Mrs. Marvin Sanders, Cashtown; Mrs. Clair Ford, Fairfield R. 1, and Mrs. Ralph Starnes, Gardners R. 1, have been discharged as patients. There were no admissions.

Be Thankful For Blessings, Urges Gettysburg President

Forget how many things are wrong with the world and on Thanksgiving Day look into the Lord's face and say, "I thank you," for His many blessings, declared Dr. Henry W. A. Hanson, Tuesday evening, in a message for this season of the year.

Speaking before the members of the Sigma Alpha Epsilon social fraternity at their annual Thanksgiving banquet in the Hotel Gettysburg, the Gettysburg college president reminded the students that "brave men and women have faced darker days and still have knelt at the altar."

Although Thanksgiving this year finds a world at war, Doctor Hanson reminded the fraternity men that all "we face today was faced by our forefathers." He noted particularly the Thanksgivings that occurred during the Revolutionary and Civil wars.

The speaker said that every student should take time out and ask himself the question: "Am I carrying out the resolves and pledges made on entering college?"

Of all the sins in America today, the greatest is ingratitude, President Hanson declared and added: "In the present crisis we will learn to say 'thank you' to God for our blessings."

Wilbert H. Beachy, eminent archon of the fraternity, was toastmaster for the dinner that was attended by 52 students and guests.

In addition to Doctor Hanson, the guests included Dr. and Mrs. John G. Glenn, Prof. and Mrs. Lester O. Johnson and Prof. George P. Gutmann.

The students sang fraternity songs during the dinner. Mrs. S. F. Snyder presented selections on the hotel's solo-vox throughout the evening.

PINE GROVE AND CALEDONIA PART OF PARK BUREAU

Harrisburg, Nov. 25 (AP)—The Pennsylvania Bureau of Parks today took over an additional 18,196 acres of public land to improve recreational facilities for those forced to find their fun near home because of transportation difficulties.

The 16 playgrounds put under the bureau's jurisdiction by G. Albert Stewart, Secretary of Forests and Waters, brings the total area of state-owned parks to about 158,000 acres. The land was previously under management of the Bureau of Forests.

Stewart said the parks offer swimming, fishing, picnicking, tenting, camping in cabins, hiking, boating and trap shooting.

Playgrounds transferred to the bureau were:

Black Moshannon, Centre county, 2,150 acres; Buchanan's birthplace, Franklin county, 19 acres; Caledonia, Adams and Franklin, 1,795 acres; George W. Childs, Pike, 52 acres; Colerain, Huntingdon, 239 acres; Cowan's Gap, Fulton, 1,348 acres; S. B. Elliot, Clearfield, 721 acres; Greenwood furnace, Huntingdon, 332 acres.

Halfway, Union, 972 acres; Knooser Lake, Somerset, 510 acres; Linn Run, Westmoreland, 2,379 acres; Parker Dam, Clearfield, 950 acres; Pine Grove Furnace, Cumberland, 3,128 acres; Shiversville, Cameron, 1,390 acres; Whipple Dam, Huntingdon, 262 acres and Whirl's End, Sullivan, 1,391 acres.

SEMINARY GRAD BURIED TODAY

Funeral services for the Rev. David P. Drawbaugh, graduate of Gettysburg college and seminary, who died Sunday morning at his home in Eustis, Litchfield, Illinois, this afternoon at Litchfield, Illinois.

The Rev. Mr. Drawbaugh was 31 years old. He suffered a stroke four weeks ago from which he never recovered.

After graduating from the seminary he accepted a pastorate at McConnellsburg, which he served for five years. He then was called to the Fourth Lutheran church, at Altoona, where he remained for fifteen years. He then went to Camden, Indiana, where he served a number of years. Later he moved to Eustis, Florida.

He is survived by his widow, the former Elida Hannah Zinn, of Gettysburg; a daughter, Mrs. Walter Davis, of Litchfield, and a son, Herman, at home.

Services were held at Eustis prior to removing the body to Litchfield.

I will sell at Harry Eckert's sale, Saturday, November 28th, five black shoats weighing 45 pounds. Clair Raffensberger.

Thanksgiving Union Service

"Giving Thanks in a Troubled World" will be the subject of the sermon to be delivered by the Rev. R. R. Gresh, pastor of St. James Lutheran church, at the annual Thanksgiving Day service which will be held in the Memorial United Brethren church Thursday morning at 9 o'clock.

The service, which is sponsored annually by the Gettysburg Ministerium, will be in charge of the Rev. Dr. N. B. S. Thomas, pastor of the United Brethren church.

The offering will be donated to the Civil Nursing association.

tended by 52 students and guests.

In addition to Doctor Hanson, the guests included Dr. and Mrs. John G. Glenn, Prof. and Mrs. Lester O. Johnson and Prof. George P. Gutmann.

The students sang fraternity songs during the dinner. Mrs. S. F. Snyder presented selections on the hotel's solo-vox throughout the evening.

Carlisle St. Stop Sign Is Moved

Motorists had better "watch" the Carlisle street-Lincoln avenue intersection.

State highway department employees this afternoon moved the thru traffic stop sign from the north side of the intersection on Carlisle street to the east side, East Lincoln avenue.

The change was made by order of the secretary of highways and is in accordance with the designation of Route 34 as a through highway in view of additional traffic moving over it as a feeder route to the turnpike.

The stop signs are effective only during the hours that the traffic light at the intersection is not in operation.

Rev. Putman Speaks At Grace Lutheran Banquet

The annual Fathers' and Sons' banquet of Grace Lutheran church was held in the parish hall at Two Taverns on Tuesday evening with 85 persons present. The turkey dinner was served by the Ladies' Aid society of the church.

The Rev. Dwight F. Putman, pastor of Christ Lutheran church, showed pictures and lectured on the trip to Europe he made several years ago. The Rev. Dr. J. M. Myers, pastor of the church, served as the toastmaster. Group singing was led by Wilbur Mackley with H. S. Roberts at the piano.

The oldest man present was Charles F. Foulk; youngest boy, Ray Schwartz, and the youngest father, Walter A. Morelock, Jr.

Members of the church council made the banquet arrangements.

Three Board No. 1 Registrants Enlist

Draft Board No. 1 at New Oxford announced today the names of three men under its jurisdiction who have enlisted in the service of the United States—two in the Army and one in the Navy.

Kenneth Crook, East Berlin, is the Navy enlistment while Raymond Hoffman, Jr., East Berlin, and Sandy Carl Childs, Gettysburg R. 5, have joined the Army.

O. Of I. A. Members To Attend Methodist Church

Members of Battlefield Council No. 717, Order of Independent Americans will attend special Thanksgiving services in the Methodist church Sunday evening. It was announced today.

AIRPORT WILL SERVE COUNTY IN PEACE-TIME, OWNER ASSERTS

The new Gettysburg airport along the Mummassburg road is here not only for the duration but with the expectation that it can become a self-supporting business organization in peace-time also. Richard Bircher, the airport owner and manager, told the members of the Gettysburg Chamber of Commerce at a monthly dinner session Tuesday evening at the Blue Parrot tea room.

Predicting that after the war standards models of improved types of airplanes will sell for as little or less than the price of low-cost autos and that the operating costs will not be as high as for autos, Mr. Bircher said he hopes to develop an airport here that will accommodate at least 25 privately-owned planes.

Predicts Continuance of Training

He also predicted the post-war continuation of a civilian pilot training program both as a means of avoiding future wars and as an important step toward preparedness. Asserting that air power is the key that will open the door to victory in this war, Mr. Bircher said "planes will form an even more decisive force in future wars. 'The training of civilian pilots must be continued to give us combat material and pilots and shorten the time within which combat pilots could be produced in event of another war,' he continued.

"If the United States would have a body of 200,000 men with some pilot training and with their number being regularly replenished as some pass the maximum age for fighter pilots, there is no nation in the world that would dare to challenge us in the future. The Army and Navy Air Corps would have been in a sorry plight indeed when we entered this war if they could not have called upon the reservoir of civilian-trained pilots. Sixteen of the men who flew with Doolittle in the 'Tokyo raid' were CPT products," the speaker said.

Explains Xmas Light Decision

President Mares Sherman presided at the meeting and told members that an investigation is being made of any opportunities available to Gettysburg in the construction of the eastern link of the Texas-New Jersey pipe line which will cross this county.

Joseph E. Codori reported for the special committee on Christmas lights and explained that the decision to omit the display of lights and laurel in the square and main streets was reached because of the impossibility of getting materials and because no electricians were available to do the work.

Mr. Codori and President Sherman said the Chamber has not made any recommendation on the type of Christmas decorations to be used outdoors by individual business places or private homes.

OYLER-BENCHOFF WEDDING HELD

Miss Janet Martha Benchoff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Benchoff, Littlestown R. D., and Thomas O. Oyler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Oyler, Gettysburg R. D., were united in marriage in a nuptial mass in St. Francis Xavier Catholic church at 9 o'clock this morning. The Rev. Fr. Mark E. Stork performed the ceremony.

Dr. and Mrs. Raymond F. Oyler, Biglerville, were the attendants.

The bride was graduated from Gettysburg high school and the Cleveland School of Music. She taught music and did secretarial work at Pratt's studio, Hanover.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Gettysburg high school and Penn State college. He is now engaged in fruit growing.

After the ceremony the couple left on a short wedding trip.

Long-Range American Bombers Seek Axis Concentrations; British Ready For Libyan Blow

London, Nov. 25 (AP)—The scale of Axis air attacks in north Africa was reported authoritatively today to show that Adolf Hitler was backing up the enemy land forces with great air power for a bitter-end stand on the Mediterranean shore—probably even to the extent of draining planes from his imperiled Russian front.

London, Nov. 25 (AP)—American, British and French forces were reported roaming the length and breadth of Tunisia today, clashing occasionally with enemy patrols in short but violent engagements and preparing the ground for a final and bitter reckoning with the Axis in Africa.

Long-range American P-38 fighters ranged the skies above the

FARMERS CAN GET EXTRA GAS UNTIL DEC. 31

In order to take care of emergency needs of farmers whose Certificates of War Necessity do not permit them to obtain sufficient gasoline to operate the vehicle or vehicles, which the certificate covers, for a period of 30 days, an emergency procedure has been set up, it was announced today by Harrison F. Snyder, chairman of the Adams county War Board.

Mr. Snyder said: "The farmer who needs more fuel for his vehicle for the period from December 1 to 31 than is granted in the Certificate of War Necessity will present the certificate to his local War Price and Rationing board. The farmer should state to the board that it is apparent an error has been made in the amount granted and that therefore, he wishes to secure a temporary transportation of motor fuel, sufficient to permit him to operate for essential purposes up to December 31."

EXPECT 75 MORE "AIR" STUDENTS

From 50 to 75 new flying students, many of them Army cadets, are expected to report at the Boulevard airport, Mummassburg road, about December 1 to begin instruction courses under the direction of Richard Bircher, owner and manager of the airport, and his staff of instructors and pilots.

There will be 12 students for the advanced course, including Army cadets from eastern United States and some graduates of the secondary course at the local airport. Twenty additional cadets also will arrive about December 1 to enroll in the secondary training course.

From 20 to 44 Temple university students will come here about the first of the month to join a group beginning elementary flight instruction. They will be housed at the Lee-Meads inn.

The eight-week training course just finished was completed several days ahead of schedule. Mr. Bircher said.

There are now 10 students from Gettysburg college enrolled in flying courses at the airport. In the next course there will be 20 from the local institution, equalling the number of students many of the large colleges and universities have enrolled in pilot training work. Mr. Bircher indicated.

ground troops, seeking out German and Italian concentrations, attacking troop columns and trains and occasionally engaging Axis planes. Four German planes were shot down and a troop train was riddled by these fighters near Gabes yesterday.

Preparation Extended

British observers said that both the British Eighth Army in Libya and the Allied Army in Tunisia have built up their forces for a crushing blow at both ends of the extended German lines which would be launched at any minute.

Advices from authorized spokesmen, however, have indicated a longer period of preparation for the admittedly tough assignment.

(The German high command reported heavy air blows against the British in Libya and the Allies in French North Africa but said there were "no fighting actions of importance" on either battlefield.)

(In Libya, the bulletin said, low-flying German planes attacked British desert strongholds and flying fields.

Nazis Claim Merchantman

(In a night attack on the Allied-held port of Algiers, it said, a 2,000-ton merchantman was destroyed, another big transport was set afire and two destroyers were damaged. Algiers, Bone and Philippeville, all Allied-held ports in Algeria, were targets of Nazi air raiders, it said, and fires were spread on the three shorefronts.

(The Berlin radio broadcast a report that the British First Army "has suffered a severe setback in its attempt to gain ground in the Tunisian-Algerian frontier area."

(It asserted that in difficult, mountainous ground, fairly strong British tank spearheads, closely followed by several motorized columns, were caught in an ambush prepared by German and Italian tank troops.

(German sappers, it said, had blown up two hairpin bends on the coastal road, thus cutting off the way of retreat for the most advanced British units.)

Reports of engagements between patrols of the opposing armies in southern Tunisia and the aerial attack on an Axis troop train near Gabes, little more than 100 miles from the Libyan border, suggested that the Germans are throwing heavy reinforcements into southern Tunisia and probably the key port of Tripoli too.

Separation May Be Difficult

If true, it may be difficult to separate the humbled African corps withdrawing westward in Libya and the swiftly gathered forces in Tunisia.

The British Eighth Army approaching El Agheila from Agadabia in Libya should know in a very few days whether Field Marshal Erwin Rommel plans to make a stand in the narrow bottleneck at El Agheila or continue his flight toward Tripoli.

French patrols in southern Tunisia under the command of Gen. Henri Giraud were reporting yesterday continued scouting activity against an apparently increased infiltration of Germans there, but a communique from the French command broadcast by Radio Morocco said: "Everything was calm during the day. Nothing of importance to report."

American parachute troops guarding an airfield in the south engaged an Axis column of mechanized troops and took a number of prisoners, a spokesman at Allied headquarters in Africa said. The Germans have been patrolling throughout the country and most of the clashes have resulted from the sudden and unexpected meeting of these forces.

80-Place Nazi Plane Downed

London, Nov. 25 (AP)—A Reuters dispatch said today that a mammoth German transport seaplane, capable of carrying up to 80 fully equipped soldiers, was shot into the sea yesterday off the eastern coast of Tunisia by RAF long-range fighters from Malta.

The dispatch called the craft a Blohm and Voss 222—apparently a huge new type by the makers of flying boats which the Nazis used experimentally for flights across the Atlantic before the war.

Three RAF fighters sighted it north of Linosa Island, midway between Tunisia and Sicily, flying northward and unescorted, presumably returning to Sicily after having landed enemy reinforcements in Tunisia.

BOND SALES ARE AHEAD OF QUOTA FOR NOVEMBER

Adams countians purchased $33,553 worth of United States War Bonds during the first two quarters of November, Edmund W. Thomas, chairman of the war bonds and stamps committee, announced today. This total includes the purchase of the E, F and G bonds.

During the first quarter Adams countians purchased $14,483 worth of E bonds and $31,000 worth of F and G bonds. During the second quarter $14,707 worth of E bonds was purchased and $11,468 worth of F and G bonds was bought.

The results of the first two quarters' sales exceeded by approximately $10,000 half of the November quota which is $143,535, Mr. Thomas said.

Mr. Thomas announced today that the Treasury department has asked Adams county to enroll an additional 1,500 employees under the 10 per cent payroll savings plan between this date and December 7, the anniversary of the attack on Pearl Harbor. (Please Turn to Page 2)

HOLIDAY "HOURS" TO VARY HERE

Some office workers in Gettysburg will enjoy a Thanksgiving holiday (Thursday) and some won't, a check-up showed today.

The Draft Board office in the First National bank building will be open for regular hours.

The Rationing board office in the Hotel Eberhart building will be closed all day.

The National Park office force on the second floor of the post office building had counted on a holiday but a memorandum arrived from Washington this morning decreeing "no holiday."

On the first floor of the federal building the post office staff has a full holiday with no mail deliveries or window service.

By order of the governor's office at Harrisburg, the state highway department offices here will close this afternoon until next Monday morning.

Court house offices and banks will observe the holiday and many local business places will close for the day.

ENEMY LOSSES REACH 100,000 IN 7 DAYS; REDS GAIN AT RZHEV

(By The Associated Press)

Russia's armies squeezed the German "escape corridor" from Stalingrad down to a bare 30 miles today, engulfed 12 more towns and villages, and boosted enemy losses to nearly 100,000 killed or captured in a violent seven-day-old offensive which the Nazis admitted had not yet reached its peak.

Northwest of Stalingrad, the Red armies were reported to have driven 80 miles into the depth of Nazi defenses inside the big bend of the Don river, and to the southwest the Russians had knifed 65 miles into the invaders' lines.

Dispatches said the jaws of the Soviet trap were closing steadily. Simultaneously, the Germans acknowledged that the Russians had succeeded in "temporarily penetrating" Nazi defenses on the Rzhev front, 130 miles northwest of Moscow.

A Berlin broadcast said the Russians smashed through after three assaults on the German lines.

2nd Berlin Admission

It was not immediately clear whether this was a full-scale Soviet offensive synchronized with the great counter-drive from Stalingrad, but it was the second time in 24 hours that Berlin had admitted serious breaks in the German lines.

Dispatches from Moscow pictured the German siege armies, estimated at 300,000 troops, as hemmed into a narrow passageway extending 120 miles westward from Stalingrad, with the Russians attacking furiously from both sides.

In addition to the nearly 100,000 Nazis killed or captured, unofficial reports said about 120,000 had been wounded.

Position Called "Awful"

(The Nazis besiegers of Stalingrad are in an "awful" military position, compelled to withdraw from the Volga city through a menaced, curving corridor of Russian armies and to cross the Don river if they are to get free of the Soviet grip, a British military source said in London.)

(This informant, who must remain anonymous, added, however, that there was no confirmation here that the Germans had ordered a general withdrawal from Stalingrad. (He said any German counter-attack to relieve the menaced army would be "tremendously difficult.")

(This informant pointed out that the Russian offensive may prove to be the first major land action of the war not accompanied by heavy air fighting. Two possible reasons, he said, might be unfavorable weather or the diversions of much German air strength to north Africa.)

Soviet communique reported both (Please Turn to Page 2)

CLIMAX NEAR IN NEW GUINEA

General MacArthur's Headquarters, Australia, Nov. 25 (AP)—American and Australian troops were gripped in a bitter close-quarters battle with a "last stand" force of Japanese on the beaches of northeastern New Guinea today as the bloody struggle in the Buna-Gona area approached its climax.

Every plane the Allied forces could muster was sent skimming over the Japanese positions with machine-guns and cannon blazing. Bombers added high explosives to the confusion and death below. On the ground Allied troops, who have surrounded the Japanese on three sides, closed in slowly.

The heaviest fighting was taking place on a coastal strip 12 miles long between Buna and Gona. At Buna both Australian and American units were reported attacking an airfield in the face of stiff enemy artillery, mortar and machine-gun fire.

Heavy fighting was reported to have erupted again on the Gona end of the battle line. The Australians entered the village Monday and found 100 Japanese dead. The Allied gunmen made more than 100 sorties over the battle area yesterday, dropping hundreds of bombs and spraying many thousands of rounds of machine-gun bullets on positions of the trapped Japanese.

(The German high command reported heavy air blows against the British in Libya and the Allies in French North Africa but said there were "no fighting actions of importance" on either battlefield.)

(In Libya, the bulletin said, low-flying German planes attacked British desert strongholds and flying fields.

Nazis Claim Merchantman

(In a night attack on the Allied-held port of Algiers, it said, a 2,000-ton merchantman was destroyed, another big transport was set afire and two destroyers were damaged. Algiers, Bone and Philippeville, all Allied-held ports in Algeria, were targets of Nazi air raiders, it said, and fires were spread on the three shorefronts.

(The Berlin radio broadcast a report that the British First Army "has suffered a severe setback in its attempt to gain ground in the Tunisian-Algerian frontier area."

(It asserted that in difficult, mountainous ground, fairly strong British tank spearheads, closely followed by several motorized columns, were caught in an ambush prepared by German and Italian tank troops.

(German sappers, it said, had blown up two hairpin bends of the coastal road, thus cutting off the way of retreat for the most advanced British units.)

Reports of engagements between patrols of the opposing armies in southern Tunisia and the aerial attack on an Axis troop train near Gabes, little more than 100 miles from the Libyan border, suggested that the Germans are throwing heavy reinforcements into southern Tunisia and probably the key port of Tripoli too.

Separation May Be Difficult

If true, it may be difficult to separate the humbled African corps withdrawing westward in Libya and the swiftly gathered forces in Tunisia.

The British Eighth Army approaching El Agheila from Agadabia in Libya should know in a very few days whether Field Marshal Erwin Rommel plans to make a stand in the narrow bottleneck at El Agheila, or continue his flight toward Tripoli.

French patrols in southern Tunisia under the command of Gen. Henri Giraud were reporting yesterday continued scouting activity against an apparently increased infiltration of Germans there, but a communique from the French command broadcast by Radio Morocco said: "Everything was calm during the day. Nothing of importance to report."

American parachute troops guarding an airfield in the south engaged an Axis column of mechanized troops and took a number of prisoners, a spokesman at Allied headquarters in Africa said. The Germans have been patrolling throughout the country and most of the clashes have resulted from the sudden and unexpected meeting of these forces.

ENEMY LOSSES REACH 100,000 IN 7 DAYS; REDS GAIN AT RZHEV

(By The Associated Press)

Russia's armies squeezed the German "escape corridor" from Stalingrad down to a bare 30 miles today, engulfed 12 more towns and villages, and boosted enemy losses to nearly 100,000 killed or captured in a violent seven-day-old offensive which the Nazis admitted had not yet reached its peak.

Northwest of Stalingrad, the Red armies were reported to have driven 80 miles into the depth of Nazi defenses inside the big bend of the Don river, and to the southwest the Russians had knifed 65 miles into the invaders' lines.

Dispatches said the jaws of the Soviet trap were closing steadily.

Simultaneously, the Germans acknowledged that the Russians had succeeded in "temporarily penetrating" Nazi defenses on the Rzhev front, 130 miles northwest of Moscow.

A Berlin broadcast said the Russians smashed through after three assaults on the German lines.

2nd Berlin Admission

It was not immediately clear whether this was a full-scale Soviet offensive synchronized with the great counter-drive from Stalingrad, but it was the second time in 24 hours that Berlin had admitted serious breaks in the German lines.

Dispatches from Moscow pictured the German siege armies, estimated at 300,000 troops, as hemmed into a narrow passageway extending 120 miles westward from Stalingrad, with the Russians attacking furiously from both sides.

In addition to the nearly 100,000 Nazis killed or captured, unofficial reports said about 120,000 had been wounded.

Position Called "Awful"

(The Nazis besiegers of Stalingrad are in an "awful" military position, compelled to withdraw from the Volga city through a menaced, curving corridor of Russian armies and to cross the Don river if they are to get free of the Soviet grip, a British military source said in London.

(This informant, who must remain anonymous, added, however, that there was no confirmation here that the Germans had ordered a general withdrawal from Stalingrad.

(He said any German counter-attack to relieve the menaced army would be "tremendously difficult."

(This informant pointed out that the Russian offensive may prove to be the first major land action of the war not accompanied by heavy air fighting. Two possible reasons, he said, might be unfavorable weather or the diversions of much German air strength to north Africa.)

PINE GROVE AND CALEDONIA PART OF PARK BUREAU

Harrisburg, Nov. 25 (AP)—The Pennsylvania Bureau of Parks today took over an additional 18,196 acres of public land to improve recreational facilities for those forced to find their fun near home because of transportation difficulties.

The 16 playgrounds put under the bureau's jurisdiction by G. Albert Stewart, Secretary of Forests and Waters, brings the total area of state-owned parks to about 158,000 acres. The land was previously under management of the Bureau of Forests.

Stewart said the parks offer swimming, fishing, picnicking, tenting, camping in cabins, hiking, boating and trap shooting.

Playgrounds transferred to the bureau were:

Black Moshannon, Centre county, 2,150 acres; Buchanan's birthplace, Franklin county, 19 acres; Caledonia, Adams and Franklin, 1,795 acres; George W. Childs, Pike, 52 acres; Colerain, Huntingdon, 239 acres; Cowan's Gap, Fulton, 1,346 acres; S. B. Elliot, Clearfield, 721 acres; Greenwood furnace, Huntingdon, 382 acres.

Halfway, Union, 972 acres; Kooser Lake, Somerset, 510 acres; Linn Run, Westmoreland, 2,379 acres; Parker Dam, Clearfield, 960 acres; Pine Grove Furnace, Cumberland, 3,128 acres; Sizerville, Cameron, 1,390 acres; Whipple Dam, Huntingdon, 262 acres and Whirl's End, Sullivan, 1,891 acres.

Carlisle St. Stop Sign Is Moved

Motorists had better "watch" the Carlisle street-Lincoln avenue intersection.

State highway department employees this afternoon moved the thru traffic stop sign from the north side of the intersection on Carlisle street to the east side, East Lincoln avenue.

The change was made by order of the secretary of highways and in accordance with the designation of Route 34 as a through highway in view of additional traffic moving over it as a feeder route to the turnpike.

The stop signs are effective only during the hours that the traffic light at the intersection is not in operation.

Rev. Putman Speaks At Grace Lutheran Banquet

The annual Fathers' and Sons' banquet of Grace Lutheran church was held in the parish hall at Two Taverns on Tuesday evening with 86 persons present. The turkey dinner was served by the Ladies' Aid society of the church.

The Rev. Dwight F. Putman, pastor of Christ Lutheran church, showed pictures and lectured on the trip to Europe he made several years ago. The Rev. Dr. J. M. Myers, pastor of the church, served as the toastmaster. Group singing was led by Wilbur Mackley with H. S. Roberts at the piano.

The oldest man present was Charles F. Foulk; youngest boy, Ray Schwartz, and the youngest father, Walter A. Morelock, Jr.

Members of the church council made the banquet arrangements.

Three Board No. 1 Registrants Enlist

Draft Board No. 1 at New Oxford announced today the names of three men under its jurisdiction who have enlisted in the service of the United States—two in the Army and one in the Navy.

Kenneth Crook, East Berlin, is the Navy enlistment while Raymond Hoffman, Jr., East Berlin, and Sandy Carl Childs, Gettysburg R. 5, have joined the Army.

O. Of I. A. Members To Attend Methodist Church

Members of Battlefield Council No. 717, Order of Independent Americans will attend special Thanksgiving services in the Methodist church Sunday evening, it was announced today.

Councils of the order are requested, by order of Carl H. Huff, state councilor, to attend Thanksgiving services in a body. Members of the council will meet at their lodge, Baltimore street, Sunday evening at 6:30 o'clock and march to the church in a body.

FARMERS CAN GET EXTRA GAS UNTIL DEC. 31

In order to take care of emergency needs of farmers whose Certificates of War Necessity do not permit them to obtain sufficient gasoline to operate the vehicle or vehicles, which the certificate covers, for a period of 30 days, an emergency procedure has been set up, it was announced today by Harrison F. Snyder, chairman of the Adams county War Board.

Mr. Snyder said: "The farmer who needs more fuel for his vehicle for the period from December 1 to 31 than is granted in the Certificate of War Necessity will present the certificate to his local War Price and Rationing board. The farmer should state to the board that it is apparent an error has been made in the amount granted and thus, therefore, he wishes to secure a temporary transportation of motor fuel, sufficient to permit him to operate for essential purposes up to December 31."

EXPECT 75 MORE "AIR" STUDENTS

From 50 to 75 new flying students, many of them Army cadets, are expected to report at the Boulevard airport, Mummasburg road, about December 1 to begin instruction courses under the direction of Richard Bircher, owner and manager of the airport, and his staff of instructors and pilots.

There will be 12 students for the advanced course, including Army cadets from eastern United States and some graduates of the secondary course at the local airport. Twenty additional cadets also will arrive about December 1 to enroll in the secondary training course.

From 20 to 44 Temple university students will come here about the first of the month to join a group beginning elementary flight instruction. They will be housed at the Lee-Meads inn.

The eight-week training course just finished was completed several days ahead of schedule, Mr. Bircher said.

There are now 10 students from Gettysburg college enrolled in flying courses at the airport. In the next course there will be 20 from the local institution, equalling the number of students many of the large colleges and universities have enrolled in pilot training work, Mr. Bircher indicated.

Property Transfers

Claude J. Lawrence and Albert E. Weaver, executors of the will of the late Francis W. Lawrence, late of Mt. Pleasant township, sold to Raymond J. Lawrence, Mt. Pleasant township, two properties in Mt. Rock.

Belia May and Harvey E. Daywalt, Gettysburg, sold to Hazel Irene Riffe, Hanover, a property on the west side of South Washington street.

80-Place Nazi Plane Downed

London, Nov. 25 (AP)—A Reuters dispatch said today that a mammoth German transport seaplane, capable of carrying up to 80 fully equipped soldiers, was shot in to the sea yesterday off the eastern coast of Tunisia by RAF long-range fighters from Malta.

The dispatch called the craft a Blohm and Voss 222—apparently a huge new type by the makers of flying boats which the Nazis used experimentally for flights across the Atlantic before the war.

Three RAF fighters sighted it north of Linosa Island, midway between Tunisia and Sicily, flying northward and unescorted, presumably returning to Sicily after having landed enemy reinforcements in Tunisia.

BOND SALES ARE AHEAD OF QUOTA FOR NOVEMBER

Adams countians purchased $83,558 worth of United States War Bonds during the first two quarters of November, Edmund W. Thomas, chairman of the war bonds and stamps committee, announced today. This total includes the purchase of the E, F and G bonds.

During the first quarter Adams countians purchased $14,483 worth of E bonds and $31,900 worth of F and G bonds. During the second quarter $24,707 worth of E bonds was purchased and $11,468 worth of F and G bonds was bought.

The results of the first two quarters' sales exceeded by approximately $10,000 half of the November quota which is $143,535, Mr. Thomas said.

Mr. Thomas announced today that the Treasury department has asked Adams county to enroll an additional 1,500 employees under the 10 per cent payroll savings plan between this date and December 7, the anniversary of the attack on Pearl Harbor. (Please Turn to Page 2)

HOLIDAY 'HOURS' TO VARY HERE

Some office workers in Gettysburg will enjoy a Thanksgiving holiday Thursday and some won't, a check-up showed today.

The Draft Board office in the First National bank building will be open for regular hours.

The Rationing board office in the Hotel Eberhart building will be closed all day.

The National Park office force on the second floor of the post office building had counted on a holiday but a memorandum arrived from Washington this morning decreeing "no holiday."

On the first floor of the federal building the post office staff has a full holiday with no mail deliveries or window service.

By order of the governor's office at Harrisburg, the state highway department offices here will close this afternoon until next Monday morning.

Court house offices and banks will observe the holiday and many local business places will close for the day.

100 Attend Opening Of Oyler And Spangler Plant

Over 100 persons attended the formal opening of the new feed building of the Central Chemical corporation (Oyler and Spangler), Lincolnway east, Tuesday.

The two-story building was recently completed and houses approximately $25,000 worth of new equipment. Last March fire caused $125,000 damage when it destroyed the plant.

NO PAPER THURSDAY

Due to the Thanksgiving holiday, The Gettysburg Times will not be published on Thursday. The next issue of the paper will appear on Friday.

CLIMAX NEAR IN NEW GUINEA

General MacArthur's Headquarters, Australia, Nov. 25 (AP)—American and Australian troops were gripped in a bitter close-quarters battle with a "last stand" force of Japanese on the beaches of north-eastern New Guinea today as the bloody struggle in the Buna-Gona area approached its climax.

Every plane the Allied forces could muster was sent skimming over the Japanese positions with machine-guns and cannons blazing. Bombers added high explosives to the confusion and death below. On the ground Allied troops, who have surrounded the Japanese on three sides, closed in slowly.

The heaviest fighting was taking place on a coastal strip 12 miles long between Buna and Gona. At Buna both Australian and American units were reported attacking an airfield in the face of stiff enemy artillery, mortar and machine-gun fire.

Heavy fighting was reported to have erupted again on the Gona end of the battle line. The Australians entered the village Monday and found 100 Japanese dead.

The Allied armies made more than 100 sorties over the battle area yesterday, dropping hundreds of bombs and spraying many thousands of rounds of machine-gun bullets on positions of the trapped Japanese.

HOSPITAL REPORT

Robert Sasser, a student at Gettysburg college, was treated at the Warner hospital Tuesday evening for a laceration to the second finger of his left hand.

Mrs. Mervin Sanders, Cashtown; Mrs. Clair Ford, Fairfield R. 1, and Mrs. Ralph Starnier, Gardners R. 1, have been discharged as patients. There were no admissions.

BATTLE CRITICAL IN AFRICA - EDEN

London, Nov. 25 (AP)—Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden told the House of Commons today that the battle for north Africa is "in an extremely critical phase" and declined to discuss arrangements which Lieut. Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower has made with the local French authorities.

The statement was made while Eden was commenting for the second day on the cancellation by Prime Minister Churchill of a broadcast which Gen. Charles de Gaulle had scheduled for last Saturday.

"The prime minister and I did not think its delivery at this particular time would be helpful to the extremely tense and serious operations now proceeding in Tunisia," Eden said.

"We could not take the responsibility for allowing anything to happen so far as we had the power to control it which might hamper the responsible commanders or make the task of our own troops and those of our allies more difficult."

The House cheered Eden, who has just succeeded Sir Stafford Cripps as government leader in the House, when he said:

"The First British army, strongly supported by United States forces, is making its way eastward over enormous distances with the utmost possible speed, and they are greatly helped in the advance by the favorable attitude of the population and also by the vigorous resistance which the French troops of Tunisia already are offering to the German and Italian invaders."

"The government entered into engagements with De Gaulle and those engagements stand," Eden said.

RUSSIA CLOSING

rail supply lines to the siege forces cut early in the offensive which started seven days ago and front line dispatches indicated that only a narrow strip running through the Don river elbow north of Kalach and south of Trekhostrovskaya remained open to an estimated 300,000 Germans and their allies for moving supplies, or escaping.

The fall of Kalach, on the Stalin-grad-Kamensk railroad, was reported Sunday and Trekhostrovskaya fell yesterday to forces pushing down from the southwest.

Red Star said it was impossible to count the spoils which fell to the advancing Russians as the Germans withdrew. Automobiles, tanks and even airplanes were left behind.

German forces arrayed before Stalingrad still were described as strong, and Russian dispatches said the Nazis showed no signs of falling back from their positions although their case grew more desperate hourly as the corridor behind them narrowed.

quarters said the Germans still were entrenched in an area around Bizerte and Tunis, controlling an area of some 25 to 30 miles outside the two cities. In this northern area of Tunisia British forces "drove back a German advance screen, while French and American units forced a similar screen southwest of Tunis to retreat," an official spokesman said.

The Vichy radio reported that the Germans had landed reinforcements at both Gabes and Sfax and it was expected that the Axis would fight bitterly to hold the coastal road connecting their forces in the Bizerte-Tunis area with Tripoli. Sfax is about 65 miles north of Gabes on the coastal road.

Radio Morocco reported that the Allied-occupied port of Bone on the Algerian coast was bombed last night by Axis raiders despite a heavy barrage of anti-aircraft fire. Bone is only a few miles from the Tunisian border.

then issue a motor fuel ration in the amount requested. This amount, according to the regulations, will be deducted at a later date from the total number of gallons of fuel that will be allowed on a Certificate of War Necessity that will be granted later, following corrections and adjustments.

"This procedure will make it possible for all farmers now to obtain sufficient fuel to care for their essential needs up to December 31 when final adjustments on certificates will have been completed. At the time the farmer applies for such emergency fuel to the local rationing board, the rationing board will direct the farmer to the chairman of the county farm transportation committee to file an appeal for a corrected Certificate of War Necessity."

ELIMINATES ALUMINUM

Philadelphia, Nov. 25 (AP)—By using substitute materials and rebuilding worn parts, the Pennsylvania railroad has eliminated the use of aluminum and reduced consumption of tin by 75 per cent, the company said yesterday. It began a program to conserve critical materials in 1940.

Tells Uncle Sam His Occupation

Nahunta, Ga., Nov. 25 (AP)—Uncle Sam asked, and Editor Carl Broome of the Brantley Enterprise, a weekly newspaper, answered—in detail.

Filling out an occupational questionnaire for Selective Service he gave his duties as:

"I write news, editorials, advertisements, keep books, pay bills, read proof, clean type, set news and editorials, pay bills, set jobs, feed press, cut paper, wrap bundles, solicit advertisements, solicit subscriptions, pay bills, repair presses and linotypes, set advertisements, type (jackleg repairs), splice belts, saw metal cuts, pay bills, chisel cuts, make up newspaper, order supplies, tell people where local draft board is, tell others where the towns lawyer might be, tell still others that silly rumor they were excited about was only a silly rumor, pay bills, wash forms, distribute type, solicit job printing, pacify irate subscribers whose paper failed to arrive, pay bills, edit bungled copy, collect bills, pay bills, sort mail, scan the exchanges and maybe clip an item. Then in my spare time, I hunt and fish and play checkers."

versary of the treacherous attack on Pearl Harbor.

At the recent Kansas City conference it was announced that the Gettysburg district led the state of Pennsylvania in percentage enrollment of employees under the payroll savings plan and that Pennsylvania led the nation in the same field.

Stresses Importance

"I cannot stress too much the importance and necessity of employees enrolling in the ten per cent payroll savings plan. It is one of the big factors in the successful financing of the war and the Treasury department is anxious to keep pace with the ever-growing expense of paying our burden of the war. It requires hundreds of millions of dollars to feed, cloth and equip our fighting forces. Uncle Sam depends upon the employees to do their share. I feel confident that Adams county will respond to the new appeal of the Treasury department and that we will exceed our quota of 1,500 new employees under the payroll savings plan," Mr. Thomas predicted.

Court Condemns Verdicts Of 'Not Guilty, Pay Costs'

Philadelphia, Nov. 25 (AP)—The Pennsylvania Supreme Court today criticized as "equivocal" such verdicts as those in which a defendant is acquitted in a criminal case, yet is ordered to pay the costs of prosecution.

Admission of the records of such verdicts into other cases in which the defendant's character has been made an issue, is an "erroneous" practice, the court said.

"Since the imposing of the costs of a criminal case on a defendant who is acquitted supports an implication that the jury thought there was some basis for the charge made, the practice when a defendant's character is put in issue, of admitting records showing such equivocal verdicts as 'not guilty but pay costs' we condemn as erroneous."

The tribunal voiced its disapproval in ordering a new trial for Edward D. Harvie, convicted in Allegheny county of driving an automobile while under the influence of liquor.

Abbottstown

Abbottstown — Pvt. Fred Berkeimer, Alaska, arrived home Saturday to spend a furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Berkeimer.

Prof. George Haines and family, Virginia, spent the week-end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Haines.

Mrs. Basil Kuhn, Mrs. Ida Shellenberger and Mrs. Beale spent the week-end in York.

RATION BOOK NO. 1 NEEDED

Washington, Nov. 25 (AP)—Persons who do not possess war ration book No. 1 must file applications for the coupon book with local ration boards by December 15, the Office of Price Administration said today. Book No. 1, the familiar sugar rationing coupon booklet, will become valid for coffee purchases at midnight November 28. Not only is possession of the book necessary for the purchase of both coffee and sugar, OPA noted, but it will have to be presented to local boards around the first of the year in order to receive war ration book No. 2, the so-called "universal" ration book.

4 MEN HURT

Corry, Pa., Nov. 25 (AP)—Four men were hurt early today in a clash between members of the rival CIO and AFL unions at the entrance to the Aero Supply company, a war production plant. The fight between the groups, both seeking bargaining rights at the plant, flared up during a change of shifts. It was one of a series of outbreaks at the plant during the last few weeks.

17 ENROLL IN MACHINERY CLASS

Seventeen men enrolled in the evening class for the repairing of farm machinery at its first meeting held Monday evening in the Musselman shop building of the Biglerville high school with Cecil R. Snyder, the instructor, in charge. In addition to those present, the names of twelve men, who expect to join the class but could not be present at the opening meeting, were turned in.

A demonstration of the repairing of a mower and making adjustment to the machine was given by Mr. Snyder assisted by Richard C. Lighter, of Gettysburg. Prof. L. V. Stock gave a brief talk on the ways in which the school may be used by the community. The next meeting will be held Thursday evening, December 3 at 7:15 o'clock.

The annual Bendersville community Thanksgiving service will be held this evening at 7:30 o'clock at the Methodist church with the pastor, the Rev. George W. Harrison, in charge. The Rev. Dr. Harvey D. Hoover, of the Lutheran Theological seminary, will be the speaker. Special musical numbers will be included on the program.

The Friendship Circle class of Christ Lutheran Sunday School, Aspers, was entertained Tuesday evening by the teacher, Mrs. Willis Weigle. The class decided to provide money to clothe a welfare child for a year. A social hour was held and included games and refreshments.

Mr. and Mrs. Urwin Rowntree, Camp Hill, are spending the Thanksgiving season with Mrs. Rowntree's parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. Gray Biglham, Biglerville.

The Biglerville schools closed this afternoon for a two-day Thanksgiving recess.

Miss Louise Singley, a first year student at the Shippensburg Teachers' college, arrived Tuesday to spend the Thanksgiving Day recess with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Singley.

Donald Boyer visited at the home of his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Lower, Monday.

Miss Louise McDannell, a teacher in Hanover, is spending her Thanksgiving vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar McDannell.

The borough schools have closed and will reopen on Monday, November 30.

Charles Bushey, member of the senior class at Shippensburg State Teachers' college, is spending a few days with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Blaine Bushey.

B. W. Kadel, Baltimore, recently visited at the home of his sister-in-law, Miss Eva Boyer.

The Misses Sara Grove and Thelma Ackerman, teachers in the local schools, are spending Thanksgiving at their homes.

The pallbearers were Frank Slonaker, Francis Smith, Joseph Smith, Harold Reuning, A. E. Hutchison and George Martin.

REFUSES NEW TRIAL

Pittsburgh, Nov. 25 (AP)—In a precedent-setting opinion, visiting Judge H. A. Mays refused today to grant a new trial to Wilma Lettrich, of Tarentum declaring she showed by her own confession she cremated her sister's baby although no trace of the body remained. Wilma, 26, was convicted of first degree murder on charges of suffocating the nine-day-old son of her unwed sister, Anna, and burning the body in a furnace. Defense Attorney Abraham Fishkin had asked a new trial, contending the state failed to establish evidence of corpus delicti.

2 NEW LAFAYETTE COACHES

Easton, Pa., Nov. 25 (AP)—Lafayette college announced today appointment of new wrestling and basketball coaches. P. S. Eisenhauer, Cornell university graduate, was named wrestling coach to succeed Clifford J. Gallagher, now a captain in the Army air corps. The basketball post went to Arthur Winters, former Hamilton college basketball coach. He succeeded Richard C. Madison, also a captain in the Army air corps.

SEWELL SIGNS CONTRACT

St. Louis, Nov. 25 (AP)—Luke Sewell has signed a contract to manage the St. Louis Browns in 1943, vice president Bill DeWitt announced today. The terms were not disclosed.

CHANGES INDUSTRY CONTROL

Harrisburg, Nov. 25 (AP)—The State Defense council has notified all county units that the Army has rescinded its order placing war industries under blackout control of defense councils. The industries will be subject to orders of the Third Service command in the future.

If Army Wins On Saturday, Cadets Can Thank Navy's Efforts To Stage Game

GRID CLASSIC BEING HELD ON ANNAPOLIS PLEA

BY SID FEDER

Annapolis, Md., Nov. 25 (AP)—They're unfolding the vest pocket edition of the Army-Navy football game in the Middles' compact ball park Saturday, and if Army finishes on top—as it figures to do—the Cadets can thank the Navy for handing it to them on a platter.

For if it hadn't been for several Navy gold-brads who wanted the game to be played, there just wouldn't have been any Army-Navy game.

What's more, if football continues during the war, there'll be no more service extravaganzas as the boys and girls have known them in the past, with all the rah-rah stuff, the hullabaloo of marching battalions and military bands, and the crowds of 100,000 or so sitting in. Instead, it will be run just like any other football game.

Home-and-Home Schedule
It will be a home-and-home affair for the duration, as plans now stand, with West Point playing host to the 1943 renewal before a crowd similar to the 15,000 or so residents of Annapolis, who are the only fans permitted to buy tickets for Saturday's shindig.

All this was learned today from a source close to the Navy, along with the fact that before the President ordered this year's Army-Navy game transplanted from Philadelphia's Municipal Stadium to the Naval Academy's field, it had been wiped off the slate entirely. The War Department, it was learned, had turned thumbs down because of the "transportation" problems involved and the rubber and gasoline that would have been wasted.

That's where the Navy stepped in. They must have known, from the way Coach Red Blaik had the Army guys rolling, that the Cadets figured to mow the Middles down. Yet the Navy biggies went all out in their argument to have the game played.

Put-Before President
Several of them went to Washington to lay their case before the top authorities.

Well, they put up a convincing case before the judge and jury, anyway, President Roosevelt gave it his blessing, and the boys will be there swinging Saturday with a crowd that could come close to fitting into the phone booths at Philly's spacious cement soup-bowl, where it has been played for the past few years. So, you've got to hand it to those Navy fellows, they aren't sure whether they'll win or lose, but they're willing to go to the mat and rattle it out.

PAPERS GATHER 6 MILLION TONS OF SCRAP METAL

New York, Nov. 25 (AP)—More than 6,000,000 tons of iron and steel and other scrap for manufacture into tanks, ships, planes and guns was credited Tuesday to the newspapers' united scrap metal drive by Richard W. Stoumen, chairman of the campaign.

Stoumen said that although the official collection ended more than a month ago, many drives still were in progress in some states. Newspapers in other areas, he added, were continuing to aid in salvage collections by special cooperation with the industrial metal-scrap drive of the War Production board.

Because of these continued campaigns, he explained, it was impossible to compile complete totals although the national average already is nearly 82 pounds for every man, woman and child.

Kansas Leads
Kansas led the state in today's compilation with 158.7 pounds for every citizen, or a total of 142,874 tons.

Vermont was second among the 18 states which had 100 pounds or more per capita, turning in 155.4 pounds per person with a total of 27,905 tons.

Washington state with 122,825 tons had an average of 141.5 pounds per person.

Reports to the committee for the rest of the 48 states pushed the aggregate so far to 5,364,415 tons, with many state figures incomplete.

Other state reports, with pounds per capita and total tonnage, as reported by the committee included: Pennsylvania 110.6 and 547,404; Ohio, 104.2 and 560,000; New York 93.6 and 630,960; Delaware 90.1 and 12,026; Maryland 69.3 and 63,101; West Virginia 43.7 and 41,575; and New Jersey 41.2 and 65,775.

GET SCRAP PENNANT

Harrisburg, Nov. 25 (AP)—Five Pennsylvania counties out of 47 eligible have received the War Production Board's pennant for contributing 100 pounds or more scrap per capita during the campaign conducted from Sept. 1 to Oct. 31.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, Nov. 25 (AP)—If, as we have been arguing, the current hockey season will give an indication of the wartime fate of other sports, you can stop worrying about 'em and send your mind off on a long vacation. . . . There's a precedent in the meeting of the National Hockey league governors the other day. . . . The hockey men know that they can't get any more players from Canada to play in the United States, but when they started to cut the player limit to give the weaker clubs a break, they compromised on a reduction of one. . . . The clubs that have more than 14 besides a goalie now will be able to keep that extra man, even though they can't use him in every game, instead of selling off their surplus.

SIGHTED SAVAGES, ETC.
Now that it's no longer a military secret, Bob McCarty of St. Martin's college at Lacey, Washington, feels he can tell the public about the "naval battle" November 14 between the St. Martin's Rangers and the Eastern Washington Savages. . . . Seems there was a "high fog" that day and the field was covered with water, sometimes five and six inches deep. . . . The chalk lines were only a vague memory: the subs and coaches retired to the covered grandstand and, when a team went back into a huddle, the referee had to hold the ball so it wouldn't float away. . . . "Oh, yes," Bob oh yesses, "St. Martin's won 6-0."

SPORTS STORY
A new story on why the Dodgers fired Chuck Dressen is that Chuck had been outspoken about being anything but fond of Branch Rickey. . . . Don Meade, who can resume riding January 1, when his suspension ends, will winter at New Orleans and has leased his Miami house to Marshall Cassidy. . . . The idea of having midshipmen substitute for the absent Army cheering section at the Army-Navy game isn't exactly new in military circles.

For years West Point and Canada's Royal Military Academy have furnished rosters for the visiting team in their hockey series. . . . Mel Ott is due in town today. Maybe after reading all the news about the Dodgers he wants to prove the Giants still are in the league. . . . The fight mob has decided that Henry Armstrong would have trouble making the lightweight limit again so now it looks as if Henry's return to Madison Square Garden will be against Bummy Davis late in January.

TODAY'S GUEST STAR
Lewis Atchison, Washington Evening Star: "Perry Schwartz began his athletic career as a tennis player in California, developed into a football player with the Golden Bears and, after yesterday's business with Bob Masterson, if there aren't a half-dozen fight managers on his spoor, they're missing a good bet."

SERVICE DEPT.
Lieut. Commander Clement Boyd of the Naval Aviation Cadet Selection board, figures that sports writers who have reported the doings of the pre-flight football teams have helped considerably to stimulate interest in naval aviation, which needs 30,000 pilots this year. . . . And how about the guys playing on those teams? . . . Pvt. Don Gilbert, who had a nifty boxing piece in the Fort McClellan (Ala.) camp newspaper the other day, is lend-lease in reverse. Born in England and reared in Canada, Don came to the United States to work for the Canadian Press—as cable editor and drama critic.

BARKER PLACES PENN AND ARMY IN 'WIN' CLASS

By HERB BARKER

New York, Nov. 25 (AP)—Taking one last whirl at the football guessing game and breathing a huge sigh of relief that it's all over for another year (or more):

THANKSGIVING DAY
Cornell-Penn: Three weeks ago this would have looked like a push-over for Penn. But now Penn has dropped its last two starts while Cornell, sparked by Wally Kretz, has won its last two. Still, stubbornly, Penn.

Kansas-Missouri: The Tigers were not exactly world-beaters against Fordham but they should be plenty good enough to take this one and thus retain the Big Six crown.

Arkansas-Tulsa: The Razorbacks are the last obstacle blocking an unbeaten, untied season for Tulsa, but with considerable misgivings in view of Arkansas' upset of Detroit last week.

Louisiana State-Tulane: Merely guessing, Tulane.

Texas A. & M.-Texas: Tossing the coin, Texas.

William & Mary-Richmond: This should clinch the Southern Conference title for William & Mary.

Great Lakes-Northwestern: Great Lakes.

Wake Forest-South Carolina: Wake Forest.

Virginia Tech-Virginia Military: Ditto V.P.I.

Colgate-Brown: Colgate.

Colorado-Denver: Out of the fog. . . . Colorado.

Idaho-Utah: Guessing again: Utah.

SATURDAY, NOV. 25
Army-Navy: The better record belongs to Army, if that means anything and it seldom does in this rivalry. Nevertheless, the Cadets have looked like a strong team all year while Navy has been inconsistent. The vote goes to Army.

Georgia Tech-Georgia: This is the perfect set-up for Georgia to come raging back after the Auburn debacle, trounce unbeaten Tech and take the Southeastern title. Perhaps it will work out that way but this observer is impressed by Tech's defensive record. Therefore, Georgia Tech.

Holy Cross-Boston College: Boston College.

Iowa Navy-Ohio State: This ball lot for Iowa Navy pre-flight is predicted on the possibly false assumption that the season ended for Ohio State last week when the Buckeyes crushed Michigan.

Notre Dame-Southern California: Hesitantly, Notre Dame.

Georgia Navy-Alabama: Sheer guessing, Georgia Navy.

Iowa-Michigan: Michigan.

North Carolina Naval-Fordham: N. C. Navy.

Vanderbilt-Tennessee: Tennessee.

Baylor-Rice: Out of the hat. . . . Rice.

Clemson-Auburn: Auburn.

Kansas State-Nebraska: Nebraska.

Long-Range Forecasting
Texas Christian-Southern Methodist: fog and more fog. T.C.U.

Oregon State-Michigan State: Taking the home team, Michigan State.

Skipping over the chalklines otherwise: Duke over Jacksonville Naval; Indiana over Fort Knox; Illinois over Camp Grant; Detroit over Oklahoma A. & M.; UCLA over Santa Ana; Miami over West Virginia.

Long-range department: Dec. 5: Iowa Naval over Missouri, UCLA over Idaho, Southern California over Montana; Notre Dame over Great Lakes; Rice over Southern Methodist; Temple over Villanova; William & Mary over Oklahoma; Washington State over Texas A. & M.; Dec. 6: St. Mary's Naval over California; St. Mary's over Detroit; Dec. 12: UCLA over Southern California.

Jeffers Says Gas Rationing Plan Stands

Washington, Nov. 25 (AP)—Despite protests against nationwide gasoline rationing Rubber Administrator William M. Jeffers declared today the program stands. December 1 remains the effective date.

Representative Johnson (D-Okla.) said he would continue his fight for a 90-day stay and Representative Anderson (D-Mo.) said he and a group of other oil-state congressmen would try to show that nationwide rationing is completely unnecessary.

After hearing Jeffers yesterday, however, members of a House interstate subcommittee said privately it appeared that little could be done to avert the move. They referred to Jeffers' declaration that rationing was not necessary to conserve gasoline outside the east but was essential for the conservation of rubber, stocks of which, he said, might reach a dangerous low next year.

Chairman Truman (D-Mo.) of the special defense investigating committee announced that Jeffers, Secretary Harold L. Ickes, Defense Transportation Director Joseph B. Eastman and Price Administrator Leon Henderson had been directed to appear Friday to establish the need for rationing.

"I've had more than 2,000 complaints, largely from the midwest," Truman told reporters.

DEPORTATION ORDERED

Washington, Nov. 25 (AP)—Attorney General Biddle announced Tuesday that Richard Julius Herman Krebs, who wrote a widely-sold book on his experiences as an agent of the Gestapo and the OGPU under the name of Jan Valin had been arrested near Bethel, Connecticut, on a warrant ordering his deportation to Germany. The next step, presumably will be to intern Krebs as an enemy alien, since he cannot be turned to Germany during the war.

MINISTER 97 YEARS OLD

Altoona, Pa., Nov. 25 (AP)—The Rev. James A. Sell, acclaimed as Blair county's oldest resident, celebrated his 97th birthday anniversary Monday. Mr. Sell started work as a farmer, turned carpenter and then printer, being one of the founders of the Tyrone "Herald" in the 60's. Later he returned to farming and also took up preaching.

TOO LATE WITH TOO MUCH!

Avoid "bottlenecking" wartime travel. . . arrive early at the terminal. . . take less baggage than usual. . . and do your traveling in mid-week!

There are still quite a few people who are giving too little thought to keeping wartime travel out of a bottleneck! Most travelers are accepting occasional crowding, inconvenience or delay with a smile—but full cooperation would eliminate many of the causes of the present situation.

You'll help to avoid confusion in terminals if you'll get tickets and information well in advance—and then arrive well in advance of departure time too! With all buses operating at wartime speeds, prompt departures from terminals and rest stops are more important than ever. Pack with extra care these days—take along less baggage than before to save space and handling.

By taking trips in mid-week you'll save seat-space on crowded week-ends for fighting men and others who can travel only at that time—you'll enjoy your trip more—and you'll help keep wartime travel on the move!

TRIBUTES' PREXY DOUBTS IF FANS WANT BASEBALL

Cleveland, Nov. 25 (AP)—President Alva Bradley of the Cleveland Indians expressed doubt today that fans want wartime baseball and declared:

"I would rather not open the ball park next spring than go out there and hear the wolves yelling, 'why aren't you in the Army, you bug!'" to the players, Bradley asserted.

"The Indians will have a very good reason for not being in the Army," he added. "They'll have wives and children to support."

"But I want to know whether the public will accept that as a valid reason."

Bradley said he had talked to a lot of people who said they wanted baseball, but he explained that these people did not represent a "cross section of opinion" since most of them were aware of Bradley's baseball connections.

Wants Fans' Attitude
He said he wanted "an expression from the fans" to take along to the major leagues' mid-winter meeting in Chicago next week.

Discussing his club's prospects for next season—if there is one—Bradley said, "the men who will be playing ball next year married men with children. The others have all gone into the service or will have gone before the season opens."

"For my part, I don't want any men on my club who aren't heads of families."

"This policy would eliminate several valuable Indian players including Les Fleming, Chubby Dean and Harry Eisenstat—all married but without children."

Eligible, however, would be infielders Oscar Grimes, Ray Mack, Lou Boudreau and Ken Keltner; outfielders Jeff Heath, Roy Weatherly and Ott Hockett; catchers Gene Reasutck, Otton Denning and Jim Hegan, and pitchers Jim Bagby, Mel Harder, Al Smith, Al Milnar, Vernon Kennedy, Joe Heving and rookie Allie Reynolds.

Eight "paint farms" throughout the country test the reactions of paint on different materials in varying climates.

BEAVERS VS. WORKERS

Lehighton, Pa., Nov. 25 (AP)—All was quiet on the Lehighton front today, but nobody knew whether the enemy had conceded defeat or merely retired to gather strength. The enemy was a colony of beavers which battled four days for possession of a bridge. They built a dam, with the bridge as breastwork. State highway workers tore it down. They built again. Again the workers levelled it. Then the Beavers took up new positions down stream. Now the workers are on the alert for any new offensive.

WAR WORKERS WON'T FOREGO HOLIDAY FEASTS
Washington, Nov. 25 (AP)—Americans may be willing to forego the holiday part of Thanksgiving tomorrow in order to keep war production wheels humming but they apparently are determined to celebrate at a festive table sometime during the day.
Millions will work as usual to keep the planes, tanks and ammunition rolling but when they sit down to dinner it will be to one of the most beautiful Thanksgiving feasts in the nation's history.
Grocery Stores Jammed
Grocery stores throughout the country have been jammed this week as consumers rushed to buy turkeys, chickens, cranberries, vegetables, pastries, and all the other trimmings.
Never before, report agriculture department officials, has there been so great a demand for food. Families that never before thought of buying turkeys are in the market now for the festive bird.

Some of the heavy buying, government officials said, undoubtedly represented purchases for the future by persons fearful of shortages later.
Some Demands Not Met
Not all of the demands are being met. In some localities the supplies were limited and grocers set up their own rationing schemes. In the case of some foods the overall supply was insufficient. Not all who wanted turkeys, for instance, were able to get them.
In other cases, labor and transportation shortages interfered with distribution, or else retailers had failed to stock up sufficiently to meet the abnormal demand.
Reports indicated that the temporary shortages were greatest in the cases of meat, poultry, milk and dairy products, eggs, some types of fresh vegetables, and some luxury items.

For years West Point and Canada's Royal Military academy have furnished rosters for the visiting team in their hockey series. . . . Mel Ott is due in town today. Maybe after reading all the news about the Dodgers he wants to prove the Giants still are in the league. . . . The fight mob has decided that Henry Armstrong would have trouble making the lightweight limit again so now it looks as if Henry's return to Madison Square Garden will be against Bummy Davis late in January.

TODAY'S GUEST STAR
Lewis Atchison, Washington Evening Star: "Perry Schwartz began his athletic career as a tennis player in California, developed into a football player with the Golden Bears and, after yesterday's business with Bob Masterson, if there aren't a half-dozen fight managers on his spoor, they're missing a good bet."

SERVICE DEPT.
Lieut. Commander Clement Boyd of the Naval Aviation Cadet Selection board, figures that sports writers who have reported the doings of the pre-flight football teams have helped considerably to stimulate interest in naval aviation, which needs 30,000 pilots this year. . . . And how about the guys playing on those teams? . . . Pvt. Don Gilbert, who had a nifty boxing piece in the Fort McClellan (Ala.) camp newspaper the other day, is lend-lease in reverse. Born in England and reared in Canada, Don came to the United States to work for the Canadian Press—as cable editor and drama critic.

BARKER PLACES PENN AND ARMY IN 'WIN' CLASS

BY HERB BARKER

New York, Nov. 25 (AP)—Taking one last whirl at the football guessing game and breathing a huge sigh of relief that it's all over for another year (or more):

THANKSGIVING DAY
Cornell-Penn: Three weeks ago this would have looked like a push-over for Penn. But now Penn has dropped its last two starts while Cornell, sparked by Wally Kretz, has won its last two. Still, stubbornly, Penn.

Kansas-Missouri: The Tigers were not exactly world-beaters against Fordham but they should be plenty good enough to take this one and thus retain the Big Six crown. Missouri.

Arkansas-Tulsa: The Razorbacks are the last obstacle blocking an unbeaten, untied season for Tulsa. Tulsa, but with considerable misgivings in view of Arkansas' upset of Detroit last week.

Louisiana State-Tulane: Merely guessing, Tulane.

Texas A. & M.-Texas: Tossing the coin, Texas.

William & Mary-Richmond: This should clinch the Southern Conference title for William & Mary.

Great Lakes-Northwestern: Great Lakes.

Wake Forest-South Carolina: Wake Forest.

Virginia Tech-Virginia Military: Ditto V.P.I.

Colgate-Brown: Colgate.

Colorado-Denver: Out of the fog, Colorado.

Idaho-Utah: Guessing again: Utah.

SATURDAY, NOV. 28
Army-Navy: The better record belongs to Army if that means anything and it seldom does in this rivalry. Nevertheless, the Cadets have looked like a strong team all year while Navy has been inconsistent. The vote goes to Army.

Georgia Tech-Georgia: This is the perfect set-up for Georgia to come raging back after the Auburn debacle, trounce unbeaten Tech and take the Southeastern title. Perhaps it will work out that way but this observer is impressed by Tech's defensive record. Therefore, Georgia Tech.

Holy Cross-Boston College: Boston College.

Iowa Navy-Ohio State: This ball lot for Iowa Navy pre-flight is predicated on the possibly false assumption that the season ended for Ohio State last week when the Buckeyes crushed Michigan.

Notre Dame-Southern California: Hesitantly, Notre Dame.

Georgia Navy-Alabama: Sheer guessing, Georgia Navy.

Iowa-Michigan: Michigan.

North Carolina Naval-Fordham: N. C. Navy.

Vanderbilt-Tennessee: Tennessee.

Baylor-Rice: Out of the hat. . . . Rice.

Clemson-Auburn: Auburn.

Kansas State-Nebraska: Nebraska.

Long-Range Forecasting
Texas Christian-Southern Methodist: fog and more fog. T.C.U.

Oregon State-Michigan 'State: Taking the home team, Michigan State.

Skipping over the chalklines otherwise: Duke over Jacksonville Naval; Indiana over Fort Knox; Illinois over Camp Grant; Detroit over Oklahoma A. & M.; UCLA over Santa Ana; Miami over West Virginia.

Long-range department: Dec. 5: Iowa Naval over Missouri, UCLA over Idaho, Southern California over Montana; Notre Dame over Great Lakes; Rice over Southern Methodist; Temple over Villanova; William & Mary over Oklahoma; Washington State over Texas A. & M.; Dec. 6: St. Mary's Naval over California; St. Mary's over Detroit; Dec. 12: UCLA over Southern California.

Jeffers Says Gas Rationing Plan Stands

Washington, Nov. 25 (AP)—Despite protests against nationwide gasoline rationing Rubber Administrator William M. Jeffers declared today the program stands. December 1 remains the effective date.

Representative Johnson (D-Okla.) said he would continue his fight for a 90-day stay and Representative Anderson (D-NM) said he and a group of other oil-state congressmen would try to show that nationwide rationing is completely unnecessary.

After hearing Jeffers yesterday, however, members of a House interstate subcommittee said privately it appeared that little could be done to avert the move. They referred to Jeffers' declaration that rationing was not necessary to conserve gasoline outside the east but was essential for the conservation of rubber, stocks of which, he said, might reach a dangerous low next year.

Chairman Truman (D-Mo.) of the special defense investigating committee announced that Jeffers, Secretary Harold L. Ickes, Defense Transportation Director Joseph B. Eastman and Price Administrator Leon Henderson had been directed to appear Friday to establish the need for rationing.

"I've had more than 2,000 complaints, largely from the Midwest," Truman told reporters.

DEPORTATION ORDERED

Washington, Nov. 25 (AP)—Attorney General Biddle announced Tuesday that Richard Julius Herman Krebs, who wrote a widely-sold book on his experiences as an agent of the Gestapo and the OGPU under the name of Jan Valtin had been arrested near Bethel, Connecticut, on a warrant ordering his deportation to Germany. The next step, presumably will be to intern Krebs as an enemy alien, since he cannot be turned to Germany during the war.

MINISTER 97 YEARS OLD

Altoona, Pa., Nov. 25 (AP)—The Rev. James A. Sell, acclaimed as Blair county's oldest resident, celebrated his 97th birthday anniversary Monday. Mr. Sell started work as a farmer, turned carpenter and then printer, being one of the founders of the Tyrone "Herald" in the 60's. Later he returned to farming and also took up preaching.

Holy Cross-Boston College: Boston College.

Iowa Navy-Ohio State: This ball lot for Iowa Navy pre-flight is predicated on the possibly false assumption that the season ended for Ohio State last week when the Buckeyes crushed Michigan.

Notre Dame-Southern California: Hesitantly, Notre Dame.

TRIBES' PREXY DOUBTS IF FANS WANT BASEBALL

Cleveland, Nov. 25 (AP)—President Alva Bradley of the Cleveland Indians expressed doubt today that fans want wartime baseball and declared:

"I would rather not open the ball park next spring than go out there and hear the wolves yelling, 'why aren't you in the Army, you big lug?'" to the players, Bradley asserted.

"The Indians will have a very good reason for not being in the Army," he added. "They'll have wives and children to support."

"But I want to know whether the public will accept that as a valid reason."

Bradley said he had talked to a lot of people who said they wanted baseball, but he explained that these people did not represent a "cross section of opinion" since most of them were aware of Bradley's baseball connections.

Wants Fans' Attitude
He said he wanted "an expression from the fans" to take along to the major leagues' mid-winter meeting in Chicago next week.

Discussing his club's prospects for next season—if there is one—Bradley said, "the men who will be playing ball next year married men with children. The others have all gone into the service or will have gone before the season opens."

"For my part, I don't want any men on my club who aren't heads of families."

This policy would eliminate several valuable Indian players including Les Fleming, Chubby Dean and Harry Eisenstat—all married but without children.

Eligible, however, would be infielders Oscar Grimes, Ray Mack, Lou Boudreau and Ken Keltner; outfielders Jeff Heath, Roy Weatherly and Oris Hockett; catchers Gene ReSautels, Otton Denning and Jim Hegan; and pitchers Jim Bagby, Mel Harder, Al Smith, Al Milnar, Vernon Kennedy, Joe Heying and rookie Allie Reynolds.

Dr. W. S. Herman Named State Church Officer

Harrisburg, Nov. 25 (AP)—The Pennsylvania Council of Churches has called upon local and Army authorities "to do their utmost" to improve moral conditions around camps where servicemen are quartered.

"Moral conditions around camps are of prime importance especially in keeping to a minimum vice and the liquor traffic," said a report adopted yesterday at the 32nd annual convention of the council which represents 1,000,000 church members in the state.

Bishop G. D. Bartdorf, Harrisburg, of the United Brethren church, was re-elected president along with the following other officers: Vice presidents, the Rev. John S. Stamm, Harrisburg, of the Evangelical church, and the Rev. Charles E. Schaeffer, Philadelphia; the Rev. Dr. W. S. Herman, Harrisburg, recording secretary, and C. Lester Mathias, Harrisburg, treasurer.

BEAVERS VS. WORKERS

Lehighton, Pa., Nov. 25 (AP)—All was quiet on the Lehigh front today, but nobody knew whether the enemy had conceded defeat or merely retired to gather strength. The enemy was a colony of beavers which battled four days for possession of a bridge. They built a dam, with the bridge as breastwork. State highway workers tore it down. They built again. Again the workers leveled it. Then the Beavers took up new positions down stream. Now the workers are on the alert for any new offensive.

WAR WORKERS WON'T FOREGO HOLIDAY FEASTS

Washington, Nov. 25 (AP)—Americans may be willing to forego the holiday part of Thanksgiving tomorrow in order to keep war production wheels humming but they apparently are determined to celebrate at a festive table sometime during the day.

Millions will work as usual to keep the planes, tanks and ammunition rolling but when they sit down to dinner it will be to one of the most bountiful Thanksgiving feasts in the nation's history.

Grocery Stores Jammed
Grocery stores throughout the country have been jammed this week as consumers rushed to buy turkeys, chickens, cranberries, vegetables, pastries and all the other trimmings.

Never before, report agriculture department officials, has there been so great a demand for food. Families that never before thought of buying turkeys are in the market now for the festive bird.

Some of the heavy buying, government officials said, undoubtedly represented purchases for the future by persons fearful of shortages later.

Some Demands Not Met
Not all of the demands are being met. In some localities the supplies were limited and grocers set up their own rationing schemes. In the case of some foods the overall supply was insufficient. Not all who wanted turkeys, for instance, were able to get them.

In other cases, labor and transportation shortages interfered with distribution, or else retailers had failed to stock up sufficiently to meet the abnormal demand.

Reports indicated that the temporary shortages were greatest in the cases of meat, poultry, milk and dairy products, eggs, some types of fresh vegetables, and some luxury items.

TOO LATE WITH TOO MUCH!
Avoid "bottlenecking" wartime travel
... arrive early at the terminal...
... take less baggage than usual...
... and do your traveling in mid-week!
There are still quite a few people who are giving too little thought to keeping wartime travel out of a bottleneck! Most travelers are accepting occasional crowding, inconvenience or delay with a smile—but full cooperation would eliminate many of the causes of the present situation.
You'll help to avoid confusion in terminals if you'll get tickets and information well in advance—and then arrive well in advance of departure time too! With all buses operating at wartime speeds, prompt departures from terminals and rest stops are more important than ever. Pack with extra care these days—take along less baggage than before to save space and handling.
By taking trips in mid-week you'll save seat-space on crowded week-ends for fighting men and others who can travel only at that time—you'll enjoy your trip more—and you'll help keep wartime travel on the move!

BATTLE CRITICAL IN AFRICA - EDEN

London, Nov. 25 (AP)—Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden told the House of Commons today that the battle for north Africa is "in an extremely critical phase" and declined to discuss arrangements which Lieut. Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower has made with the local French authorities.

"The statement was made while Eden was commenting for the second day on the cancellation by Prime Minister Churchill of a broadcast which Gen. Charles de Gaulle had scheduled for last Saturday.

"The prime minister and I did not think its delivery at this particular time would be helpful to the extremely tense and serious operations now proceeding in Tunisia," Eden said.

"We could not take the responsibility for allowing anything to happen so far as we had the power to control it which might hamper the responsible commanders or make the task of our own troops and those of our allies more difficult."

"The House cheered Eden, who has just succeeded Sir Stafford Cripps as government leader in the House, when he said:

"The First British army, strongly supported by United States forces, is making its way eastward over enormous distances with the utmost possible speed, and they are greatly helped in the advance by the favorable attitude of the population and also by the vigorous resistance which the French troops of Tunisia already are offering to the German and Italian invaders."

"The government entered into engagements with De Gaulle and those engagements stand," Eden said.

17 ENROLL IN MACHINERY CLASS

Seventeen men enrolled in the evening class for the repairing of farm machinery at its first meeting held Monday evening in the Musselman shop building of the Biglerville high school with Cecil R. Snyder, the instructor, in charge. In addition to those present, the names of twelve men, who expect to join the class but could not be present at the opening meeting, were turned in. A demonstration of the repairing of a mower and making adjustment to the machine was given by Mr. Snyder assisted by Richard C. Lighter, of Gettysburg. Prof. L. V. Stock gave a brief talk on the ways in which the school may be used by the community. The next meeting will be held Thursday evening, December 3 at 7:15 o'clock.

The annual Bendersville community Thanksgiving service will be held this evening at 7:30 o'clock at the Methodist church with the pastor, the Rev. George W. Harrison, in charge. The Rev. Dr. Harvey D. Hoover, of the Lutheran Theological seminary, will be the speaker. Special musical numbers will be included on the program.

The Friendship Circle class of Christ Lutheran Sunday School, Aspers, was entertained Tuesday evening by the teacher, Mrs. Willis Weigle. The class decided to provide money to clothe a welfare child for a year. A social hour was held and included games and refreshments.

Mr. and Mrs. Urwin Rowntree, Camp Hill, are spending the Thanksgiving season with Mrs. Rowntree's parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. Gray Biglham, Biglerville.

The Biglerville schools closed this afternoon for a two-day Thanksgiving recess.

THANKSGIVING PRAYER

How shall we keep Thanksgiving tomorrow?

What prayer shall we say
In a world that's so strewn with disaster and sorrow
And dread and dismay?

Our young and our brave will not come to the table.
They are far and away,
But we can be grateful and glad
we are able

To share in the fray.

Be grateful for all who God's battles
are fighting;

For orchards and vines,
For courage, our strength and our treasures uniting
in holding the lines.

The dangers are great, but give thanks and be grateful
For all who now brave them;
And pray as they struggle 'gainst
all that is hateful:

"God bless them and save them!"

Today's Talk

By George Matthew Adams

CLEAN ENTERTAINMENT

One of the things most commented upon, as the character of the late George M. Cohan was extolled, was that he never gave over his talents, nor his plays, to anything that was not clean, wholesome and uplifting. Not only was his personal character clean, but everything that he gave to his public was just that.

George M. Cohan was an elevating influence upon the entire American stage—and he was admired and beloved by millions. He was modest and sincere. To meet him was a privilege. He radiated good will. He was generous to a fault. He was helpful in an endless number of ways to those who struggled for a hearing. He was tolerant. He was a gentleman.

You always came away from a Cohan play with a wholesome, happy feeling within you. He was a genuine patriot and friend, and you caught something fine from his vibrant personality both on and off the stage. I met him several times, but did not know him personally. But I knew much of him, for he gave himself out to all who ever came in contact with him. And like the late Bob Davis he always left behind something of himself.

For long years George M. Cohan will be remembered for the things he did in giving clean entertainment to those who for so long crowded his theatre to witness his fine acting. Like the late Frank Bacon, he could sponsor nothing that was not elevating. His splendid example was in contrast with many a stage show that has continued for all too long, sponsored by those whose pandering to filth and vulgarity, have had eyes only to the office cash box.

No George M. Cohan play ever had a sewer running through it!

It is unfortunate that indecent plays are allowed to live, or that there should be enough patrons to keep them living. Clean entertainment always pays best. It has been proven over and over again. My friend John Golden advises the fact that he puts on only clean plays—and I have never viewed one that wasn't elevated and well performed. His big list of hits is evidence that clean plays pay.

God bless the memory of George M. Cohan. He left us all his debt. We will all think cleaner because he pointed the way.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "A Day at a Time."

Out Of The Past
From the Files of the Star and Sentinel and
The Gettysburg Times

TWENTY YEARS AGO

Greek Ambassador Here: Alexander Vourous, of Washington, Greek ambassador to the United States, and his secretary, stopped in Gettysburg, Sunday en route to Harrisburg. While here Mr. Vourous and his secretary toured the battlefield.

Observe Anniversary: Gettysburg camp, Sons of Veterans, in accordance with an order of the national president of the organization, held appropriate services in observance of the fifty-ninth anniversary of the presentation of Lincoln's Gettysburg address at the Corporal Skeely G.A.R. post rooms at 7:30 o'clock in the evening. Rev. Dr. J. A. Clutz was the main speaker.

Paving Nearing Completion: Work of paving two blocks on Hanover street, which has been going on steadily for more than a week is now rapidly nearing completion. The first block is already finished and the contracting firm of M. & T. E. Farrell is near the middle of the second block. According to reports the last concrete will be poured Saturday.

Normal Graduates Gather: Graduates of the Shippensburg Normal school, teaching in Adams county and attending the teachers' annual institute in session in Gettysburg, held their annual "get-together" at the Battlefield Hotel Wednesday evening. The affair was attended by forty-one graduates.

Guile W. Levever, of Gettysburg, acted as toastmaster. Toasts were responded to by Dr. Ezra Lehman, J. S. Heiges and W. Raymond Shank. The following officers were elected for the coming year: President, Wilmert Neely, York Springs; vice president, Walter D. Reynolds, Gettysburg; and secretary, Miss Anna Kauffman, of York Springs.

Announce Marriage: Howard J. Storm, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Storm, of Gettysburg, and Miss Bertha B. Hankey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William P. Hankey, Strasburg township, were married in St. Francis Xavier church Wednesday. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Mark Stock. The couple was attended by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Steinberger, of Gettysburg.

Dr. Granville to Leave College: Dr. William A. Granville announced that he has tendered his resignation as president of Gettysburg college to the Board of Trustees to become effective March 1, 1923. He has been president of the college since 1910 when he succeeded Dr. S. G. Hefelbower.

Next March 1, Dr. Granville will become president of the Insurance Economics society of America, with headquarters in Chicago.

Veterans Banqueted: Thanksgiving was celebrated one week ahead of time by the members of the Grand Army of the Republic post here and the circle, the Women's auxiliary of the organization, when the annual banquet was held on Thursday in the post home, East Middle street. Forty-three survivors of the Civil war in this community were present.

Guides to Banquet: The annual banquet of battlefield guides will be held at Roger's restaurant next Tuesday evening, it has been announced. Members of the Battlefield commission force here will be the guests of honor.

Birthday Party: An enjoyable surprise party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Frazer, Stratton street in honor of the birthday anniversaries of their children, Paul and Marie. Those present were Paul and Marie Frazer, Lillian Dougherty, Margaret Leech, Pauline Beck, Genevieve Beck, Evelyn McIntire, Olive Smith, Tresa Reed, Mary Zaxal, Catherine Cook, Mildred McSherry, Dorothy Smith, Phyllis Beck, George Stock, Bernard Stock, Junior Reed, Donald Emmons, Percy Jacobs, Charles Jacobs, Paul Smith, Bernard Weikert, Robert McIntire, Howard Hummer and Helen Leech.

Apple Storing Pays the Grower: Fruit growers of this and other sections who have stored their apple crop will, in all likelihood, be well repaid for having done so. Those who attempted to dispose of their output at the time it was harvested, but with conditions showing good supply, and a light demand, and as a consequence, the prices were far below those which are confidently expected a little later in the season.

Personal: Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Bumbaugh, of Philadelphia, announce the birth of a son Friday, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bumbaugh, Franklin street.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Zinn, Hanover street, announce the birth of a daughter at the Warner Hospital on Friday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Winfield Horner, Cumberland township, announce the birth of a daughter.

Jonas Marling, Mt. Joy township, has sold his farm to William Herbst, West Middle street.

Mr. and Mrs. William G. Abel, East Middle street, announce the birth of a daughter Wednesday, November 16th.

Carnegie Tech President Sees U. S. Taking Over Colleges

PREDICTS THEIR USE TO TRAIN
SPECIAL TROOPS

Pittsburgh, Nov. 25 (AP)—Dr. Robert E. Doherty, president of Carnegie Institute of Technology, believes it is "highly probable" Uncle Sam will turn the nation's colleges into centers for educating only specialized soldiers before the war ends.

"Our institution and others of similar character probably will become centers of technical training for men who are destined for the armed forces," he told 1,200 students and 400 alumni and other guests who attended ceremonies yesterday at Carnegie music hall memorializing the birthday of Andrew Carnegie.

"The length of the training period may be much less than four years, perhaps one or two," he predicted, "and the training program will unquestionably be dictated by the armed forces concerned and have no planned relation to the regular curricula."

Dr. Doherty said there "presumably" would be special engineering and scientific programs for qualified women and those men who are unable to pass the physical requirements of the armed forces.

"It will be education devoted 100 per cent to the war effort," he added. He said the demand was never so great for clear-headed thinking, sharpened wits, keen analysis and for ability to report findings and give directions in crisp, clear English.

"Learn to use your head," he urged.

Convicted Of Slaying
Girl Who Jilted Him

Philadelphia, Nov. 25 (AP)—Harry W. Johnson, 26-year-old shipyard pipefitter, sat alone in his prison cell today awaiting sentence on a charge of first degree murder in the shotgun killing of his pretty sweetheart, Marie Ervin, 30, who jilted him.

A jury of seven men and five women which convicted him last yesterday recommended that he die in the electric chair. Judge Vincent A. Carroll deferred sentencing for five days pending a motion for a new trial.

The commonwealth charged that Johnson, after searching for Miss Ervin for 48 hours, traced her to her new third-floor apartment last September 23 and fired a 16-gauge shotgun at her chest.

CLERGYMAN DIES

Carnegie, Pa., Nov. 25 (AP)—The Rev. Dr. James M. McQuilkin, pastor of the Carnegie United Presbyterian church for the past 34 years, died Monday in Allegheny General hospital, Pittsburgh.

He came to Carnegie after holding the pastorate at the First United Presbyterian church of Chicago for six years.

Flashes of Life

PERPLEXING

Niagara Falls, N. Y.—Postal authorities are stumped by this one: More than 100 unstamped, undressed envelopes containing coins have been deposited in a mailbox on Falls street. Acting Postmaster Thomas F. Gray hazarded a guess someone might be donating to some federal agency but "all we can do," he added, "is hold the envelopes and consign them to the dead letter office."

NOSEBLEED CURE

Los Angeles—Dr. A. D. Trotter, police surgeon, made this report: Charles Williams, 46-year-old boxing instructor had a nosebleed. Several friends swiftly twisted a tourniquet around his neck and rushed him to a hospital. Dr. Trotter said he unwound the tourniquet from the gasping Williams just in time. Anyway, his nose quit bleeding.

RATION PROOF

San Fernando, Calif.—C. W. Robinson didn't dash after a gasoline book. He didn't need one. His 1912 electric automobile is going strong. He believes the tires are good for the duration.

EARLY PRESENTS

Springfield, Ill.—Santa Claus came a month early to more than 18,000 electric consumers in Springfield. They will receive $100,000 in Christmas dividends from the municipal light and power company. Customers will pay their bills as usual, but they will be given an equivalent amount in War Savings Stamps and Bonds along with a paid receipt.

F.D.R. Says There Is No Production 'Chief'

Washington, Nov. 25 (AP)—Arguments among some government officials over who bosses the nation's war production were still at least temporarily today by President Roosevelt's assertion there is no individual high command.

Present administrators, the President told a press conference yesterday, must work together to solve the problems of production, allocation of materials and scheduling of production.

Further, he declared, all the officials concerned with these problems are supposed to agree. And if they don't, Mr. Roosevelt added, he will put them in a room and tell them to do so.

Commenting on current conflicting reports over who has the final word on production and allocations, the President observed that those who say there will be a single man control over all war production factors are dodging drawing.

HOLIDAY ENDS MONDAY

Harrisburg, Nov. 25 (AP)—State employees leave work tonight for an extended Thanksgiving Day vacation which will end Monday morning. Most state offices will be closed but State Selective Service headquarters will remain open.

Let Us Pause . . .

Let Us Pause . . .

Many years and many great events have passed since those first Thanksgiving Days when Prayers of Thanksgiving were made for the many blessings bestowed upon a God fearing people.

Although we live in a streamlined era of fast moving events, in a world beset by war, let us give thanks for the right of our American heritage. For the many blessings being denied others but so common place about us that we often take them for granted.

This Thanksgiving, let us pause, look about us and count our many blessings and give thanks for all that is ours and reaffirm our faith in Him our maker.

TWO MILLION
JEWS REPORTED
KILLED BY NAZIS

BY KENNETH L. DIXON

Washington, Nov. 25 (AP)—Details of a campaign which Dr. Stephen S. Wise said was planned to exterminate all Jews in Nazi-occupied Europe by the end of the year are to be laid before a committee of leading Jewish organizations today in New York.

The story—which Doctor Wise said was confirmed by the State Department and a personal representative of President Roosevelt—deals with how more than 2,000,000 Jews already have been slaughtered in accordance with a race extinction order by Adolf Hitler.

Carries Documentary Proof

Before leaving for New York to address the committee this afternoon, Dr. Stephen S. Wise, chairman of the World Jewish Congress and President of the American Jewish Congress, said he carried official documentary proof that "Hitler has ordered the extermination of all Jews in Nazi-ruled Europe in 1942."

After a consultation with State Department officials, he announced they had termed authentic certain sources which disclosed that approximately half of the estimated 4,000,000 Jews in Nazi-occupied Europe already had been killed and that Hitler was wrathful at "failure to complete the extermination immediately."

To speed the slaughter of the other half during the remaining month before the edict's deadline, Doctor Wise said the Nazis were moving some four-fifths of the Jews in Hitler-ruled European countries to Poland. There, he said Nazi doctors were killing them at the rate of "more than 100 men an hour, per doctor," by injecting air bubbles into their veins—"the simplest and cheapest method" they could find.

400,000 Gone From Warsaw

Doctor Wise, who heads the committee, asserted that already the Jewish population of Warsaw had been reduced from 500,000 to about 100,000.

In addition to the State Department which he said had provided the documentary proof of previous rumors and reports, the chairman said a "representative of President Roosevelt, recently returned from Europe," had confirmed other stories and told him that "the worst you thought is true."

Whether details of the gruesome campaign will be revealed publicly will be decided by the committee.

NEW GUINEA ROMANCE
Hazelton, Pa., Nov. 25 (AP)—It's still the same old moon in New Guinea, if war has changed everything else, Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Patterson have reason to believe. Their daughter, Second Lieut. Maude L. Patterson, an Army nurse, has written them that she is engaged to Lieut. Lloyd Thompson of Troy, Texas, also with the forces in New Guinea. They met shortly after arriving there April 9.

RESIGNS AS RECTOR

Rochester, Pa., Nov. 25 (AP)—The Rev. Rodney Fitzgerald Cobb has resigned as rector of Rochester Trinity Episcopal church to accept the pastorate of the St. Luke church at Smithport, McKean county, effective January 1.

Doctor Wise said, adding that any contemplated action will be announced after today's meeting.

2 JAP BASES IN CHINA BOMBED

By J. REILLY O'SULLIVAN

With the United States Air Forces in China, Nov. 23 (Delayed) (AP)—American bombers, accompanied by the largest fighter escorts yet seen in the China theater, subjected two of Japan's main air bases in south China to punishing attacks today without drawing opposition from a enemy plane.

An air port on the island of San-chu, 72 miles south of Canton, was raided in the morning and installations on the Tienho airfield at Canton were destroyed in the afternoon. The island base raid was led by Lieut. Col. Herbert Morgan of Freedom, Pa.

They handed it back two for one for the ineffective pre-dawn enemy raid on the Kwangsi airfield in which two of three Japanese bombers were shot out of the sky and the third possibly was destroyed.

Three hangars believed filled with Japanese planes, a big barracks and a large workshop area at the Sanchu airport received direct hits in the morning raid by the American sky-drivers. Five tons of bombs were dropped on the field, Japan's principal south China reserve base and airplane repair and storage center. Fires were started and oil supplies were believed set ablaze.

NO TREE IN READING

Reading, Pa., Nov. 25 (AP)—For the first time in 30 years there will be no community Christmas tree in the city square this year. The city council ruled against it to save electricity.

On correct diet depends the well-being of not only our armed forces—but the industrial workers and entire population as well. Healthful, nourishing foods are just as essential to victory as guns, tanks, and planes. This is the reason we should be vitamin-minded and health-conscious.

German Extortion Scheme Revealed

London, Nov. 25 (AP)—The Netherlands government-in-exile charged Germany Tuesday with organizing a vast scheme of extortion by selling exit permits from occupied territory for great sums and said it would combat the traffic with every means in cooperation with the British and United States governments.

Relatives and friends in Allied and neutral territory receive a communication that persons in occupied territory will be allowed to emigrate on condition that a considerable sum, in the currency of a neutral country, be made available to the enemy," it said.

The sums demanded, it said, are very large—sometimes as high as the equivalent of $20,000 a head.

Accused Of Forcing Girl To Marry Him

Washington, Nov. 25 (AP)—Jon Gamasky of Reading, Pa., is under indictment, charged with kidnapping Miss Peggy Anne Kelly, 21, and forcing her to marry him.

Assistant U. S. Attorney Bernard Margolis said Gamasky met Miss Kelly near the State department building, where she is employed, and forced her into his automobile.

He drove her to Bel Air, Md., and there, during a marriage ceremony, he held a gun in his coat pocket, Margolis said.

The couple had known each other a year, the federal attorney added. The girl came here from Tennessee.

HELD FOR HEARING

Holidaysburg, Pa., Nov. 25 (AP)—Justice of the Peace C. A. Beswick held W. Malcolm Borst of Williamsburg, Pa., on $2,000 bond for a hearing Wednesday on charges of involuntary manslaughter and assault and battery with an automobile in the deaths of Sergeant John J. Feehey, 25, of Glen Ridge, New Jersey, and Alma Wentz, 26, of Holidaysburg. Feehey, son of Patrick M. Feehey, advertising manager of the Newark Evening News, and Miss Wentz were killed early Sunday at the Gaysport bridge on the William Penn highway. The couple, returning from a dance at nearby Altoona, had just alighted from a street car.

SHOOTS BLACK BEAR

The loss of his right hand in an industrial accident several years ago hasn't handicapped Allen E. Eby, Littlestown R. 2, when it comes to shooting bear. Hunting near Cedar Run, Lycoming county, last Wednesday, the first day of the season, Eby dropped a black bear that dressed 250 pounds. It was the second bear he had shot in that section within two years. Two years ago he shot a bear weighing 175 pounds.

GROSS LISTS EXPENSES

Former Congressman Chester H. Gross, successful as the Republican candidate for Congress at the November 3 election, spent $1,935 in his pre-election campaign. The entire amount was made up by contributions. His expenses include $196.90 for gas, meals and hotel bills, $500 each to the Republican committees of York, Adams and Franklin counties; $7 for messenger, $50 for printing, and the remainder for advertising.

POCONO MANOR JOINS NAVY

Mount Pocono, Pa., Nov. 25 (AP)—Pocono Manor, 272-room resort high in the Pocono mountains, is being taken over by the Navy. The Navy department announced in Washington Monday that a lease already has been signed, but said that it was not yet ready to disclose what use would be made of the resort.

SPECIAL CARE IN RAID Philadelphia, Nov. 25 (AP)—Philadelphia's expectant mothers would receive special care during any attack from the air. Two Girls and a Man

by LOIS EBY and JOHN CHESTER FLEMING

YESTERDAY: Rita Ralston steps out into the middle of a beautiful morning—and old Jed Bowers hands her a letter. She would like to steam it open, because it is from the New York bank with which her father has been conducting a mysterious correspondence. But she is too old for that sort of thing, so she takes it to her father, and then demands that he show her what it contains. And this he does.

Chapter Two THE LOAN

"I don't understand," Rita raised her glowing brown eyes in troubled concern. "What loan is this—due three weeks ago—that the New York bank can't extend?"

Ralston replied, "It was a loan on Blossom Ranch. We had to have the $20,000 to keep the factory going when the crops failed."

Rita's heart was beating wildly. "You mean—we've lost Blossom Ranch?" she cried. "Why, Dad! I was born there. Mother loved it—you love it—it's our home! You can't give that up just to keep the plant running!"

"I won't give it up without a struggle," he said quietly. Her father's arm tightened on hers. "I'm taking the plane to New York tomorrow. I'm sure the bank will listen to reason."

Slowly the tumult in Rita's breast subsided. Peace was in the smile she lifted to her father. "Okay," she whispered.

Doc Burrows

The next day's sun had ridden to a high place in the dome of clear blue sky as Rita busied herself in the kitchen getting lunch on the table. The morning had been full of hustling with a call to the Los Angeles airport for a seat on the flight that left at 8:30 in the evening, packing, and shooting Mr. Ralston off to the village for a haircut. He had been back for some time and although Rita had insisted on his resting he begged off with the excuse that he wanted to do a little tinkering with the tractor. Rita could see him now through the kitchen window bending over the engine.

Rita spread a gay colored cloth on the porcelain topped table. Swiftly she moved the lunch from the stove to the table.

"Lunch, pops," she called through the open window.

The old man put down his wrench slowly and half turning he called back, "Be along in a minute."

Rita thought she noticed a look of pain as she caught a glimpse of his profile but the more she thought of it the more she was convinced it was a trick of her imagination. The excitement of the past hours had done strange things to her nerves.

She waited five minutes before she stepped to the door to call again—she didn't call, her throat tightened at what she saw and her heart was pounding wildly in her breast.

Her father had fallen to the ground and was lying quietly on his side. His face was ashen and his lips were a cold blue.

Somehow, she blindly reached his side. He was breathing heavily but was still conscious. She rubbed his cold hands and as she bent over closely she could hear him mutter something. Finally she made it out, "Call—Doc Burrows."

Bad Attack

Rita dashed to the house and called the doctor. In five minutes the battered coupe turned into the Ralston driveway. Ten minutes more and the doctor had Mr. Ralston in his bed resting comfortably. Rita had waited anxiously in the living room while the doctor gave her father an examination. When the doctor came out of the bedroom and shut the door softly behind him, his pleasant face was serious.

"Your dad will be all right now. Just one of his old heart spells—but a bad one," he told Rita gently. "For the present the danger's over but he'll have to stay in bed a couple of days and take it a lot easier than he's been taking it."

After the doctor had gone Rita opened her father's door. The color had returned to his cheeks and he was looking almost normal again. She stepped to the side of his bed and kissed him lightly on the forehead.

"Don't worry for one minute, Rolly dear. I'm taking that plane tonight and I'll get Mr. Cunningham to extend that note. I'm sure he will, he'll have to!"

Mr. Ralston looked up into Rita's lovely flushed face with genuine pride blazing in his eyes.

"You're a real Ralston, child. Go to it, and may God be with you."

Chapter Three The Man on the Plane

At exactly six-thirty, just as Rita was deftly putting on the last touch of lipstick, she heard Dr. Burrows' auto horn blast three short notes. Miss Thrasher, who was busy in the kitchen preparing a light supper for Mr. Ralston, called gaily, "Miss Rita, it's the doctor for you."

"Thanks, coming," Rita answered. Rita stepped lightly into her father's room. He was awake and at the sight of her daughter in her smart new grey tailored suit, her crimson turban, and with a V pin of brilliants on her lapel, a broad smile broke over his face.

"Darling, any man would be puffy in your hands the way you look in your new suit! Unless Bill Cunningham has changed considerably since we were in college, you will be able to do much more with him than I ever would. Beautiful women were always a weakness with him!"

"Good old Rolly," Rita thought. "No matter what he really thinks, he's always the good scout in the pinches." She squeezed her father's offered hand and left the room.

Smilingly the doctor swung open the door of his coupe as he saw Rita coming down the flagstone path. He whistled a low note at the sight of her.

Prince Charming

"Never can tell what will happen to a pretty girl in New York," he observed. "Might just be the trip of your life."

Rita's laugh rang out. "Banish the thought, Doc," she said. "This is a business trip. I'll be going much too fast for any Prince Charming on a poky 'white steed.'"

"Never know," the Doctor shook his head sagely. "Might be Peg-asus."

It was just ten minutes after eight when the headlights of the coupe swung into the broad driveway of the Municipal Airport. The rasping drone of a man's voice was pouring from the loud speaker system. "Flight 19 east ready at runway number 6."

"Flight 19—that's me," Rita said. Rita took a deep breath of the cool night air and felt a surging inner strength rise up in her—at this moment she felt she could conquer worlds if necessary. Even if Cunningham were as heartless as the moving picture version of a banker, Rita felt certain of success in her new venture.

With a few gasping coughs the huge engines on the glistering transport plane, standing with wings outstretched like a giant silver beetle in the moonlight, roared into action. Above the noise Rita shouted her thanks to Dr. Burrows and boarded the plane. The trim little stewardess showed her to her seat, buckled her safety belt for the take-off and made sure she was comfortable.

A Pair of Eyes

It was some time before Rita's inner excitement was sufficiently calmed to even notice her fellow passengers. A quick survey around told her that she and the stewardess were the only women aboard. Most of the men were in uniform.

Suddenly she felt a pair of eyes on her. The owner was sitting directly across the aisle. She ventured a fleeting side glance and felt her heart quicken at what she saw. A well-brushed head of dark, wavy hair, finely cut features deeply tanned by the sun, eyes that were ever smiling.

In her confusion Rita quickly opened a current magazine she had brought along to read—she opened it to a story, her eyes scanned the first paragraph a dozen times but she had no idea what she read. She tried it again and again but it was of no use. She closed the magazine and laid her head back closing her eyes as if to nap.

"I don't blame you for walking out on that story of Arden's—I thought it was a dud, too. Told him so the other day in Hollywood when we lunched together. If he didn't have ability I wouldn't have complained but I hate to see genius sell out for a mess of pottage," she heard a deep masculine voice saying from across the aisle. She opened her eyes quickly.

CATTLE SALES THREATEN CUT IN MILK SUPPLY

Harrisburg, Nov. 25 (AP)—The Pennsylvania Farm Security Administration committee envisions a reduced milk supply because of increased sales of dairy cattle for slaughter.

"These animals . . . should be producing badly-needed milk for civilian populations here and abroad," said Carson Mertz, state FSA director.

A survey reported to the committee showed there were 880 sales in the last three months and in the same period of time farmers sold 24,729 veal heifers, 4,664 one-year-old heifers, 2,580 bred heifers, 4,523 dried bred cows, 4,971 milk cows and 5,306 unbred cows.

Moreover, the survey disclosed that 1,620 farmers intend holding sales during the next four months and that the trend toward the slaughter house will continue," Mertz added.

Dr. Monroe Arms, farm management specialist of the State College Extension service, said many of the cows were being sold to neighboring farmers who use them as replacements for proper stock.

"But," he added, "it's my hunch that too many are going to the butcher, and I mean too many good dairy cows."

Seventy per cent of cows recently sold in the Philadelphia milk shed were butchered, said J. Hansell French, committee chairman and former State Secretary of Agriculture.

The committee set December 6 to 12 as "Merit Award Week" in recognition of the outstanding work done this year by operators of small farms. Mertz also explained that 3,000 of the 5,400 farmers cooperating with FSA met goals set by the Federal agency after the declaration of war.

THANKSGIVING PRAYER

How shall we keep Thanksgiving tomorrow?
What prayer shall we say
In a world that's so strewn with disaster and sorrow
And dread and dismay?
Our young and our brave will not come to the table.
They are far and away,
But we can be grateful and glad
To share in the fray.

Be grateful for all who God's battles are fighting;
For orchards and vines,
For courage, our strength and our treasures uniting
in holding the lines.
The dangers are great, but give thanks and be grateful
For all who now brave them;
And pray as they struggle 'gainst all that is hateful:
"God bless them and save them!"

CLEAN ENTERTAINMENT

One of the things most commented upon, as the character of the late George M. Cohan was extolled, was that he never gave over his talents, nor his plays, to anything that was not clean, wholesome and uplifting. Not only was his personal character clean, but everything that he gave to his public was just that.
George M. Cohan was an elevating influence upon the entire American stage—and he was admired and beloved by millions. He was modest and sincere. To meet him was a privilege. He radiated good will. He was generous to a fault. He was helpful in an endless number of ways to those who struggled for a hearing. He was tolerant. He was a gentleman.
You always came away from a Cohan play with a wholesome, happy feeling within you. He was a genuine patriot and friend, and you caught something fine from his vibrant personality both on and off the stage. I met him several times, but I knew him personally. But I knew much of him, for he gave himself out to all who ever came in contact with him. And like the late Bob Davis he always left behind something of himself.
For long years George M. Cohan will be remembered for the things he did in giving clean entertainment to those who for so long crowded his theatre to witness his fine acting. Like the late Frank Bacon, he could sponsor nothing that was not elevating. His splendid example was in contrast with many a stage show that has continued for all too long, sponsored by those whose pandering to filth and vulgarity, have had eyes only to the office cash box.
No George M. Cohan play ever had a sewer running through it!
It is unfortunate that indecent plays are allowed to live, or that there should be enough patrons to keep them living. Clean entertainment always pays best. It has been proven over and over again. My friend John Golden advertises the fact that he puts on only clean plays—and I have never viewed one that wasn't elevated and well performed. His big list of hits is evidence that clean plays pay.
God bless the memory of George M. Cohan. He left us all his debt. We will all think cleaner because he pointed the way.
Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "A Day at a Time."

Out Of The Past
From the Files of the Star and Sentinel and The Gettysburg Times

TWENTY YEARS AGO

Greek Ambassador Here: Alexander Vourous, of Washington, Greek ambassador to the United States, and his secretary, stopped in Gettysburg, Sunday en route to Harrisburg. While here Mr. Vourous and his secretary toured the battlefield.

Observe Anniversary: Gettysburg camp, Sons of Veterans, in accordance with an order of the national president of the organization, held appropriate services in observance of the fifty-ninth anniversary of the presentation of Lincoln's Gettysburg address at the Corporal Skelly G.A.R. post rooms at 7:30 o'clock in the evening. Rev. Dr. J. A. Clutz was the main speaker.

Paving Nearing Completion: Work of paving two blocks on Hanover street, which has been going on steadily for more than a week is now rapidly nearing completion. The first block is already finished and the contracting firm of M. & T. E. Farrell is near the middle of the second block. According to reports the last concrete will be poured Saturday.

Normal Graduates Gather: Graduates of the Shippensburg Normal school, teaching in Adams county and attending the teachers' annual institute in session in Gettysburg, held their annual "get-together" at the Battlefield Hotel Wednesday evening. The affair was attended by forty-one graduates.

Guilt W. Lefever, of Gettysburg, acted as toastmaster. Toasts were responded to by Dr. Ezra Lehman, J. S. Heiges and W. Raymond Shank. The following officers were elected for the coming year: President, Wilmber Neely, York Springs; vice president, Walter D. Reynolds, Gettysburg, and secretary, Miss Anna Kauffman, of York Springs.

Announce Marriage: Howard J. Storm, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Storm, of Gettysburg, and Miss Bertha B. Hankey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William P. Hankey, Straban township, were married in St. Francis Xavier church Wednesday. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Mark Stock. The couple was attended by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Steinberger, of Gettysburg.

Dr. Granville to Leave College: Dr. William A. Granville announced that he has tendered his resignation as president of Gettysburg college to the Board of Trustees to become effective March 1, 1923. He has been president of the college since 1910 when he succeeded Dr. S. G. Hefelbower.

Next March 1, Dr. Granville will become president of the Insurance Economies society of America, with headquarters in Chicago.

Veterans Banqueted: Thanksgiving was celebrated one week ahead of time by the members of the Grand Army of the Republic post here and the circle, the Women's auxiliary of the organization, when the annual banquet was held on Thursday in the post home, East Middle street. Forty-three survivors of the Civil war in this community were present.

Guides to Banquet: The annual banquet of battlefield guides will be held at Roger's restaurant next Tuesday evening, it has been announced. Members of the Battlefield commission force here will be the guests of honor.

Birthday Party: An enjoyable surprise party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Frazer, Stratton street in honor of the birthday anniversaries of their children, Paul and Marie. Those present were Paul and Marie Frazer, Lillian Dougherty, Margaret Leech, Pauline Beck, Genevieve Beck, Evelyn McIntire, Olive Smith, Tresa Reed, Mary Zazal, Catherine Cook, Mildred McSherry, Dorothy Small, Phyllis Beck, George Stock, Bernard Stock, Junior Reed, Donald Emmons, Percy Jacobs, Charles Jacobs, Paul Smith, Bernard Welkert, Robert McIntire, Howard Hummer and Helen Leech.

Apple Storing Pays the Grower: Fruit growers of this and other sections who have stored their apple crop will, in all likelihood, be well repaid for having done so. Those who attempted to dispose of their output at the time it was harvested, but with conditions showing good supply, and a light demand, and as a consequence, the prices were far below those which are confidently expected a little later in the season.

Personal: Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Bumbaugh, of Philadelphia, announce the birth of a son Friday, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bumbaugh, Franklin street.
Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Zinn, Hanover street, announce the birth of a daughter at the Warner Hospital on Friday morning.
Mr. and Mrs. Winfield Horner, Cumberland township, announce the birth of a daughter.
James Marling, M. Joy township, has sold his farm to William Herbst, West Middle street.
Mr. and Mrs. William J. Abel, East Middle street, announce the birth of a daughter Wednesday, November 16th.

Carnegie Tech President Sees U. S. Taking Over Colleges

PREDICTS THEIR USE TO TRAIN SPECIAL TROOPS

Pittsburgh, Nov. 25 (AP)—Dr. Robert E. Doherty, president of Carnegie Institute of Technology, believes it is "highly probable" Uncle Sam will turn the nation's colleges into centers for educating only specialized soldiers before the war ends.
"Our institution and others of similar character probably will become centers of technical training for men who are destined for the armed forces," he told 1,200 students and 400 alumni and other guests who attended ceremonies yesterday at Carnegie music hall memorializing the birthday of Andrew Carnegie.

"The length of the training period may be much less than four years, perhaps one or two," he predicted, "and the training program will unquestionably be dictated by the armed forces concerned and have no planned relation to the regular curriculum."
Dr. Doherty said there "presumably" would be special engineering and scientific programs for qualified women and those men who are unable to pass the physical requirements of the armed forces.
"It will be education devoted 100 per cent to the war effort," he added. He said the demand was never so great for clear-headed thinking, sharpened wits, keen analysis and for ability to report findings and give directions in crisp, clear English.
"Learn to use your head," he urged.

Convicted Of Slaying Girl Who Jilted Him

Philadelphia, Nov. 25 (AP)—Harry W. Johnson, 26-year-old shipyard pipefitter, sat alone in his prison cell today awaiting sentence on a charge of first degree murder in the shotgun killing of his pretty sweetheart, Marie Ervin, 30, who jilted him.
A jury of seven men and five women which convicted him late yesterday recommended that he die in the electric chair. Judge Vincent A. Carroll deferred sentencing for five days pending a motion for a new trial.
The commonwealth charged that Johnson, after searching for Miss Ervin for 48 hours, traced her to her new third-floor apartment last September 23 and fired a 16-gauge shotgun at her chest.

CLERGYMAN DIES

Carnegie, Pa., Nov. 25 (AP)—The Rev. Dr. James M. McQuilkin, pastor of the Carnegie United Presbyterian church for the past 34 years, died Monday in Allegheny General hospital, Pittsburgh.
He came to Carnegie after holding the pastorate at the First United Presbyterian church of Chicago for six years.

Flashes of Life

PERPLEXING

Niagara Falls, N. Y.—Postal authorities are stumped by this one: More than 100 unstamped, undressed envelopes containing coins have been deposited in a mailbox on Falls street. Acting Postmaster Thomas F. Gray hazarded a guess someone might be donating to some federal agency but "all we can do," he added, "is hold the envelopes and consign them to the dead letter office."

NOSEBLEED CURE

Los Angeles—Dr. A. D. Trotter, police surgeon, made this report: Charles Williams, 46-year-old boxing instructor had a nosebleed. Several friends swiftly twisted a tourniquet around his neck and rushed him to a hospital. Dr. Trotter said he unwound the tourniquet from the gasping Williams just in time. Anyway, his nose quit bleeding.

RATION PROOF

San Fernando, Calif.—C. W. Robinson didn't dash after a gasoline book. He didn't need one. His 1912 electric automobile is going strong. He believes the tires are good for the duration.

EARLY PRESENTS

Springfield, Ill.—Santa Claus came a month early to more than 18,000 electric consumers in Springfield. They will receive $100,000 in Christmas dividends from the municipal light and power company. Customers will pay their bills as usual, but they will be given an equivalent amount in War Savings Stamps and Bonds along with a paid receipt.

F.D.R. Says There Is No Production 'Chief'

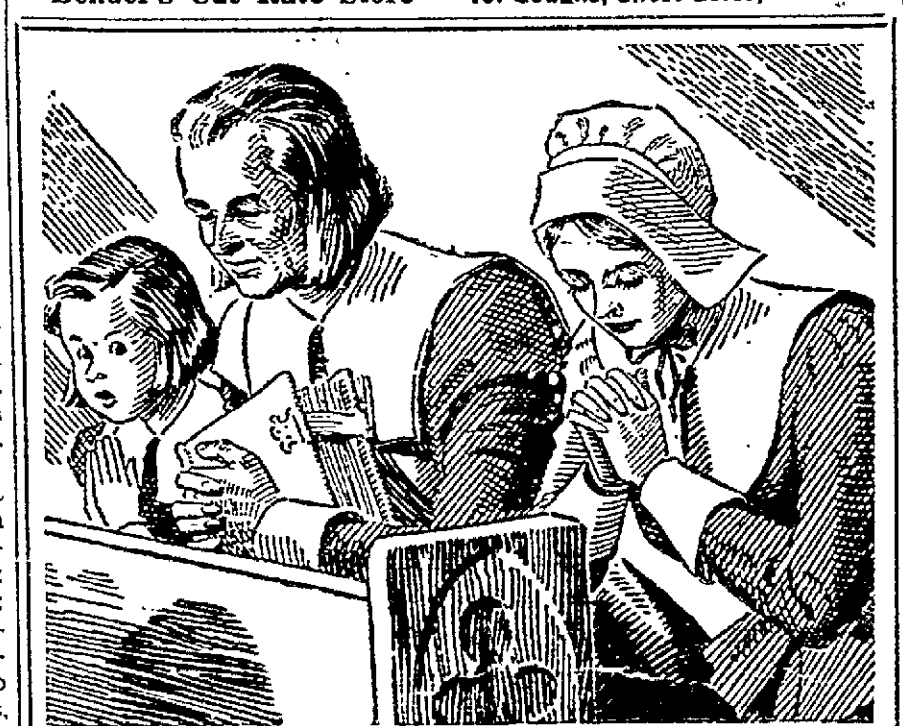

Washington, Nov. 25 (AP)—Arguments among some government officials over who bosses the nation's war production were stilled at least temporarily today by President Roosevelt's assertion there is no individual high command.
Present administrators, the President told a press conference yesterday, must work together to solve the problems of production, allocation of materials and scheduling of production.
Further, he declared, all the officials concerned with these problems are supposed to agree. And if they don't, Mr. Roosevelt added, he will put them in a room and tell them to do so.
Commenting on current conflicting reports over who has the final word on production and allocations, the President observed that those who say there will be a single man control over all war production factors are dodging drawing.

HOLIDAY ENDS MONDAY

Harrisburg, Nov. 25 (AP)—State employees leave work tonight for an extended Thanksgiving Day vacation which will end Monday morning. Most state offices will be closed but State Selective Service headquarters will remain open.

Let Us Pause . . .

Many years and many great events have passed since those first Thanksgiving Days when Prayers of Thanksgiving were made for the many blessings bestowed upon a God fearing people.

Although we live in a streamlined era of fast moving events, in a world beset by war, let us give thanks for the right of our American heritage. For the many blessings being denied others but so common place about us that we often take them for granted.

This Thanksgiving, let us pause, look about us and count our many blessings and give thanks for all that is ours and reaffirm our faith in Him our maker.

TWO MILLION JEWS REPORTED KILLED BY NAZIS

BY KENNETH L. DIXON

Washington, Nov. 25 (AP)—Details of a campaign which Dr. Stephen S. Wise said was planned to exterminate all Jews in Nazi-occupied Europe by the end of the year are to be laid before a committee of leading Jewish organizations today in New York.

The story—which Doctor Wise said was confirmed by the State Department and a personal representative of President Roosevelt—deals with how more than 2,000,000 Jews already have been slaughtered in accordance with a race extinction order by Adolf Hitler.

Carries Documentary Proof

Before leaving for New York to address the committee this afternoon, Dr. Stephen S. Wise, chairman of the World Jewish Congress and President of the American Jewish Congress, said he carried official documentary proof that "Hitler has ordered the extermination of all Jews in Nazi-ruled Europe in 1912."

After a consultation with State Department officials, he announced they had termed authentic certain sources, which disclosed that approximately half of the estimated 4,000,000 Jews in Nazi-occupied Europe already had been killed and that Hitler was wrathful at "failure to complete the extermination immediately."

To speed the slaughter of the other half during the remaining month before the edict's deadline, Doctor Wise said the Nazis were moving some four-fifths of the Jews in Hitler-ruled European countries to Poland. There, he said Nazi doctors were killing them at the rate of "more than 100 men an hour, per doctor," by injecting air bubbles into their veins—"the simplest and cheapest method" they could find.
400,000 Gone From Warsaw
Doctor Wise, who heads the committee, asserted that already the Jewish population of Warsaw had been reduced from 500,000 to about 100,000.
In addition to the State Department which he said had provided the documentary proof of previous rumors and reports, the chairman said a "representative of President Roosevelt, recently returned from Europe," had confirmed other stories and told him that "the worst you thought is true."
Whether details of the gruesome campaign will be revealed publicly will be decided by the committee.

Hazelton, Pa., Nov. 25 (AP)—It's still the same old moon in New Guinea. If war has changed everything else, Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Patterson have reason to believe. Their daughter, Second Lieut. Maude L. Patterson, an Army nurse, has written them that she is engaged to Lieut. Lloyd Thompson of Troy, Texas, also with the forces in New Guinea. They met shortly after arriving there April 9.

RESIGNS AS RECTOR

Rochester, Pa., Nov. 25 (AP)—The Rev. Rodney Fitzgerald Cobb has resigned as rector of Rochester Trinity Episcopal church to accept the pastorate of the St. Luke church at Smethport, McKean county, effective January 1.

Doctor Wise said, adding that any contemplated action will be announced after today's meeting.

2 JAP BASES IN CHINA BOMBED

By J. KELLY O'SULLIVAN

With the United States Air Forces in China, Nov. 23 (Delayed) (AP)—American bombers, accompanied by the largest fighter escorts yet seen in the China theater, subjected two of Japan's main air bases in south China to punishing attacks today without drawing opposition from a enemy plane.

An air port on the island of San-chu, 72 miles south of Canton, was raided in the morning and installations on the Tienho airfield at Canton were destroyed in the afternoon. The island base raid was led by Lieut. Col. Herbert Morgan of Freedom, Pa.

They handed it back two for one for the ineffective pre-dawn enemy raid on the Kwangsi airdrome in which two of three Japanese bombers were shot out of the sky and the third possibly was destroyed.

Three hangars believed filled with Japanese planes, a big barracks and a large workshop area at the Sanchu airport received direct hits in the morning raid by the American sky-dragns. Five tons of bombs were dropped on the field, Japan's principal south China reserve base and airplane repair and storage center. Fires were started and oil supplies were believed set ablaze.

Radio Programs

New York, Nov. 25 (AP)—Radio's first wartime Thanksgiving is to include an all-network broadcast by President Roosevelt. He is to lead a song and prayer service, which besides domestic stations, will be sent around the world by short wave.
Time of the program was not announced in advance.

Highlights of the Thursday schedule by networks:

CBS—4 to 6 p. m., Two-hour
Thanksgiving canteen with Don Ames as M. C. and with stars of stage, radio, screen and opera; 8
p. m., drama "Time Is to Reap," drama by Stephen Vincent Benet.

NBC—9:30 a. m., from England,
American Eighth Air force entertaining 200 British war orphans;
6:30 p. m. from Alaska, soldiers entertain.

MBS—9:30 a. m., drama "An American Prayer"; 1:15 p. m., Lutheran Thanksgiving, Dr. Walter A.
Maler.

BLU—12 noon, Thanksgiving service, Dr. F. C. Stiffer.

Football—BLU 1:15 p. m., Cornell
vs. Pennsylvania.
